WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Hon DeCosmos moved, seconded by Hon Southgate, an address to the Governor prays ing that a bill be prepared and introduced to Hon Pemberton thought the act did not establish a standard of weights and measures Hon Birch replied that SERVANTS apply, as it was a local law. There was no doubt that the civil list was too large, though throughout the Colony.

Hon Macdonald said this was a matter which legislation is required. In the Van-The official members then retired to requiring much delicacy, but unless mem- couver Assembly the attempt to establish unithe lobby of the House. Hon Macdonald was inclined to adopt the suggestion of the Hon Calorial Scoretory, that the Council Colonial Secretary, that the Council would gain more respect at home and abroad was thrown away. They had gone-through the estimates, and instead of reducing had increased them to a larger sum. He would not take upon him-self any share of the responsibility of voting of the Crown Revenue. press for a postponement. Hon Robson said the subject should be dealt with as a whole and no distinction made between the Island and mainland. Hon Southgate said there was no doubt that the arrears due to the teachers must be paid, and he felt sure that no hon member would wish to deprive them of it. Hon Birch could not vote for the motion without information. The Hon Mr Young, in his memoranda attached to the Governor's message, had shown that the teachers had The croaker's part, &c., &c. continued to act on their own responsibility. Hon Macdonald explained the circumstances of the Board of education having met the teachers after the official notification, when, in consideration of the importance of not closing the schools to the public, the latter had agreed to keep them open without pay. There was now nearly $5000 due.

Hon Robson suggested that it would be better to strike the item out of the estimates nd let come up as a supplemental estimate.

Hon DeCosmos was really surprised at the hon gentleman who had always expressed him.

self as a warm advocate of free education. He (Mr Robson) would keep these worthy starving teachers out of their money, depending on the executive to send down a supplemental estimate which might or might not be sent, while he would vote money to be scattered round in supporting denominational schools. No greater firebrand could be de-vised than to deprive the people of the Island of their system of educating their young, utils izing their intellect and raising them free from sectarian prejudice. In deference to the wishes of hon members he would withdraw
