

Sunday School Convention

Proceedings at Yesterday's Sessions Held in St. Andrews Church.

Reading of Reports and Papers By Members on Interesting Topics.

(From Saturday's Colonist.)

Yesterday morning's Presbyterian Sabbath school convention was continued at 9 o'clock, being opened with devotional exercises. The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved, after which the reports of the Mount Pleasant, Vancouver, Crescent Island, of Ladners, Knox, Sapperton and St. Andrew's Ladners, Sunday schools were received. All showed the Sunday school work to be prospering.

Mr. King suggested that when the next convention notices were sent out, the superintendent should be instructed to send the reports of their schools through the session.

Mr. White further suggested that the annual report of the Sunday schools be required from the session instead of superintendent.

Rev. J. A. Logan reported on the character and progress of home work during the past year, and stated that the publications committee had offered any help required to carry out the work free for a certain period.

Mr. Leask reported on the home department work in Nanaimo, while Mr. White reported on the state of the work in St. Andrew's church, Vancouver.

The discussion was carried on by Messrs. King and McCaus, who suggested ways and means of carrying on the work.

The "Teacher's Preparation," a very instructive paper, was read by Mrs. F. M. Cowperthwaite. The paper was by J. S. Gordon, B.A., of Vancouver.

Rev. J. A. Logan referred to a number of books which were available for teachers' preparation, and as leading up to normal training.

Messrs. King, McRae, White and Clay discussed the subject of normal training.

A paper on "Promotion of Scholars by Examination" was read by Messrs. McCaus, Logan, McRae, Clay and White.

Mr. M. McBeth wrote expressing his regret at his inability to attend. His paper on "Denominational or Inter-denominational," was read by Rev. Mr. King, and was well discussed.

An address on Ontario Sunday school work was given by Mr. Maroon.

Several delegates reported upon the work of the Sunday School Union.

W. J. White, on behalf of St. Andrew's church, Vancouver, invited the convention to meet there at the next convention. The invitation was accepted. The executive will decide the time of the meeting.

Rev. W. L. Clay was appointed to answer the question box, and Dr. Campbell's name was added to the nominating committee.

At 1:35 the third session opened with short devotional exercises. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Dr. Campbell read a very full and instructive paper on "The Place of Church Doctrine, Church History and Government," which was very favorably commented on.

Messrs. White and McCaus reported as to the progress made in teaching the subject in St. Andrew's, Vancouver. Dr. Campbell mentioned a number of books which are helpful along that line.

"The Sabbath School a Field for Winning Souls," was very ably dealt with by Rev. W. L. Clay, which included the following thoughts, among many others: "Instruction in Bible history only to be a means of winning scholars to Christ."

"The teacher must realize that the scholar needs to be saved."

"Christ saved souls by the power of sin and suffering."

"The teacher must love his pupil in the highest sense, enough so as to forego pleasure, endure reproaches, and be despised."

"The teacher who wins is the teacher who prays."

"There is not a child old enough to come to Sunday school who isn't old enough to be saved."

"The most active, earnest, Christ-like members of our church are child converts."

"The Sunday school is the second place on earth to save souls, and the Sunday school teacher is the second best person on earth to win them."

"The home and the parents come first, but the Sunday school and the Sunday school teacher are second only to them."

"Miss M. C. Mills read Miss A. J. Davidson's carefully written and excellent paper on "Lesson Helps."

Mrs. Cowperthwaite, Messrs. McCaus, Wilson, McRae, White and Dubberley discussed the paper.

Mr. Ecclesstone kindly explained an apt way of illustrating the lesson.

The report sent by Treasurer M. G. B. Cross, showing a balance of $11.65 on hand, was read and moved by Mr. White, seconded by Mr. McCaus that the report be received and adopted. Mr. McCaus brought up the matter of a methodical way of raising money to defray the expenses of the convention and to publish reports. It was moved and seconded that the question of ways and means be left to a committee to report. This was adopted and Messrs. White, Bryden and Wilson were appointed.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. McCaus submitted the report of the nominating committee as follows: President, Rev. G. A. Logan; first vice-president, Rev. W. L. Clay; second vice-president, R. B. McCaus; third vice-president, Mr. Gregson; fourth vice-president, Mr. J. Leask; treasurer, Mr. W. J. White; secretary, Mr. Geo. J. Telfer; superintendent home department, Rev. John A. Logan.

On motion by Mr. McCaus, seconded by Mr. White, the report was received and adopted, and the said officers were declared elected.

Mr. Logan called the president-elect to the chair, and expressed the hope that the convention work would flourish under his direction.

Mr. Wilson, in reply, thanked the teachers for the honor conferred on him, and spoke of the noble work done by the Sunday school, which had been president of the convention for eight years.

On motion by Mr. McCaus, seconded by Mr. Logan, the name of the Rev. B. A. King was added to the list of officers as fifth vice-president.

Rev. W. L. Clay ably disposed of the contents of the question box to the satisfaction of all.

The session closed with a hymn and the benediction.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session commenced with devotional exercises and was very largely attended.

Mr. L. Tait read a very instructive paper on "How to Conduct the Bible Class so as to Hold Young Men."

The paper follows: 1. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

2. The difficulty of doing this increases with the age of the pupil.

3. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

4. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

5. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

6. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

7. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

8. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

9. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

10. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

11. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

12. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

13. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

14. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

15. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

16. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

17. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

18. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

19. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

20. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

21. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

22. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

23. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

24. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

25. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

26. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

27. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

28. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

29. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

30. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

31. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

32. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

33. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

34. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

35. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

36. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

37. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

38. The object of all Sunday school teaching is to hold the pupils and transform them into Christian men.

own church and respectfully suggests to the committee in charge of these publications that they should be published in the teacher's monthly, King's Own, etc., would be a most desirable boon to all our Sabbath schools.

That while recognizing the general faithfulness of teachers in promoting the claims of Christ as a personal Saviour, the convention recommends to each school the appointment of a particular day or days to be devoted to the study of the Bible, and that these should be specially urged upon all scholars.

That the thanks of this convention are due and are hereby tendered to the Times and Colonist newspapers for full and accurate reports of the proceedings and to the transportation companies for reduction in rates to delegates; also to the ladies and gentlemen who prepared and read the papers submitted.

Rev. Mr. Wilson read the report of Procedure in Sabbath School Management.

It was as follows: The only merit the writer claims for this paper is the orthodox and purely theoretical, that is, it has never been put in practice, and so is not the result of experience, but is simply an attempt to provide a remedy for some of the evils which I am strongly convinced is a great source of weakness in our Sunday school work.

I am convinced that the thing that retards more than any other, the progress of the school is the utter lack of business methods, of system and of unity in the management. Any other method of organization and of teaching methods would go to pieces in six months. Of course here and there are exceptions, but the evil is generally prevalent.

Briefly let me point out the defects of the present system, or rather lack of system. First, each Sunday school worker is a unit and communicates no relation to each other. One does not know what the other is doing, work according to his or her own plan, and the general main purpose of the school.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

The teachers have no idea what the desires of the superintendent are, except so much as he may communicate to them by means of a circular work or by some other means. The teacher does not bring to bear upon his work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

This result is a lack of interest on the part of the teacher in the school generally, because unaccounted and ununiform regarding the subject of the school; the teacher's discouragement, for looking at one class and seeing how many failures he is making, he becomes discouraged; the remedy is for him to work all the resources of which he is handicapped, for he finds instead of all following some definite known plan, each is seeking to fulfil a plan of his or her own.

affecting the library lesson helps, and school papers, and reports about the matter to the association of all matters affecting their departments.

It shall be the duty of the missionary societies to make arrangements for mission schemes, and to keep the school posted in missionary intelligence.

It shall be the duty of the committee on school management to arrange the order of service, to look after the department of the school, to call speakers, to have the school arranged and have charge of the conduct of the school generally. It shall also prepare the annual report, and to see that the school is kept posted in missionary intelligence.

There shall be a monthly business meeting of the association, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.

There shall be an annual meeting of the association for the election of officers, to be held on the first day of each month, and to be held in a book kept for the purpose by the secretary of the committee, and on being received shall be signed by the secretary.