IN CALENDARS.

The calendar of the season and one of The calendar of the season and one of especial interest to Canadiaus during the coming year, is the Cabot Calendar, prepared by Agnes Fitzgibben and Sara Mickle, (Briggs Pub. Co.) It is most artistic as well as educative, while the portraits in monochromes of Champlain, Frontenac, Wolfe, and Brock, are excellent and to be preserved as valued momentoes. Pen and ink sketches of our noted governors and statement together noted governors and statesmen, together with data of all important events in Canadian history, make this souvenir as historically valuable as it is a sistic. Price 50 cents.

Floming Revell shows a variety of new and attractive calendars. A floral calendar fac-simile of water colors is very dar fac-simile of water colors is very pretty. This may be had in four varieties, chrysanthenums, roses, pansies, violets. The one flower is retained throughout the calendar and the color preserved in the ribbon garnishing. The delicate tints of the blossoms are most artistic.

In Scriptural calendars the "Forward" Calendar and "Time and Tide" are very choice. They are both finely gotten up; the former full of vigor, while the latter is especially full of a certain poetic, dreamy beauty of sea scenes and sea texts. (50 cents each.)
