

cape the punishment of the unfaithful servant.— Can it be imagined that such an one will receive so great a measure of the divine approbation as he who is entirely devoted to the service of God, and whose ardent desire is, that whether present or absent, he may be approved of Him? The happiness of the one will not be the result of an arbitrary appointment, it will arise from his possessing a character perfected by faith and holy obedience. The complacency of the Most High will for ever rest on such an individual, for He approves in His creatures what bears a resemblance to Himself.— To attain a perfect likeness to the image of God is the grand object after which every christian ought to aspire. not merely because it will be followed by everlasting bliss, but because it is the will of God that all His people should possess it. How deeply must the great apostle have felt the influence of this consideration when he said:—"I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Such a sentiment as this cannot be adopted, nor such a resolution formed from selfish motives; it proceeds from a higher and nobler principle, for there must be a supreme love to the object itself experienced before the happiness resulting from it can be enjoyed. In pursuing that object, there is, on account of its exalted nature, scope for unbounded ambition; and the development of that feeling in this holy enterprise is, perhaps, the only way in which it can be exhibited so as to have a beneficial influence upon the character. When men engaged in a competition for worldly distinction, a multitude of conflicting emotions agitate their minds; feelings of the most unhallowed nature are sometimes excited, and it not unfrequently happens, that he whose superior endowments have enabled him to obtain the distinction, becomes the object of envy and the most cruel persecution. Not so, however, in the christian contest. Here the loftiest ambition may be exercised without exciting in the breast any unholy feeling towards those who have made a nearer approximation to the object desired, and who, consequently, will receive more distinguished honor.— And the more elevated the aim is, and the more vigorously it is pursued, the heavenly influence requisite for such exertion destroys the operation of evil passions, and strengthens the principles which constitute the very essence of resemblance to Christ.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION. The annals of medical science, affording as they do ample proof of the power and value of many medicinal agents, have furnished no examples to compare with the salutary effects produced by "AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL." DR. PERKINS, President Vermont Medical College, one of the most learned and intelligent physicians in the country, considers it a "composition of rare excellence for the cure of that formidable disease, Consumption." Norwich, April 26, 1846. Dr. J. C. Ayer—Dear Sir:—Agreeable to the request of your agent, we will cheerfully state what we have known of the effects of your CHERRY PECTORAL and they have been astonishing indeed. Mrs. Betsey Streeter had been afflicted with a severe and relentless cough, which reduced her very low; so low that little hopes could be entertained of her recovery. Numerous remedies had been tried without effect, before the CHERRY PECTORAL. And that has cured her. George Watkinson Esq., had to our knowledge been afflicted with Asthma, for eleven years, and grown yearly worse, until the CHERRY PECTORAL has now removed the disease and he is as free from any of its symptoms as we are. The Rev. Mark Dane had been so severely attacked with the Bronchitis, as to disable him from the duties, and nothing had afforded him relief until I (Mr. Thorning) carried him a bottle of your PECTORAL, which cured him at once, and he now officiates as usual in his place. These are three of the cases in which we have known it successful, but never to fail. We have great pleasure in certifying to these facts; and are, respected Sir, your humble servants. REV. DAVID THORNING. HON. JOSEPH BATTLES. Among the distinguished authorities who have given their names to recommend CHERRY PECTORAL, as the best remedy that is known for the Affections of the Lungs, are "The London Lancet," "Canadian Journal of Medical Science," Boston Medical and Surgical Journal," "Charleston (S. C.) Medical Review," "New Jersey Medical Reporter," Prof. Bartlett, Transylvania University of Medicine, President Perkins Vermont Medical College, Dr. Valentine Mott, New York City, Parker Cleveland, Bowdoin College, Prof. Butterfield, Willoughby College, Ohio, Prof. Braithwaite, Leeds (Eng.) Medical School, Sir Richard Kane, Queen's College, Ireland, Prof. Rosenbaum, Leipzig. The public have but to know the virtues and astonishing success of the "CHERRY PECTORAL" in curing diseases of the Lungs, when they will feel secure from these dangers whenever this remedy can be obtained. PREPARED BY J. C. AYER, CHEMIST, LOWEL, MASS. Sold by Lyman & Kneeshaw, Toronto; Hamilton and Kneeshaw, Hamilton; Wm. Lyman & Co., Montreal, Agents for the Canadas.
