

to pieces and disappear, and will be numbered with the numerous false religions that have sprung up and had their day, and are now only known in history.

The Olive Branch says:—The meanest man in the world!—Who is he? Why, the man who after enjoying the privilege, with his wife and children, of reading a newspaper every week for months and years, and obtaining therefrom instruction and amusement, leaves town, for no one knows where—without settling for his paper, and compelling the postmaster to order it to be stopped. We have felt bad on knowing that just such a miserable creature as this has been in the weekly receipt of our paper? We hope for decency's sake, that there is not another such worthless personage on our list,—if there is, we may give his name and residence a gratuitous insertion in our columns. Members of the editorial fraternity, do you know of a meaner man than one who acts thus? In our opinion:

"If you should take a fine tooth comb, And rake down all creation, You couldn't find a meaner man In this here mighty nation."

SMART AND LAZY.—A wag was one day speaking of two of his acquaintances who had gone out West, where the new comers were usually attacked the first season with the ague, and said he:

"Neither of those two men will be affected by it." "Why not?" inquired a bystander, "Because," was the reply, "one of them is too lazy to shake, and the other won't shake unless he gets pay for it."
