

- (ii) tuition, clothing and equipment required for training, and all other training costs,
 - (iii) rations and quarters,
 - (iv) duty travel in connection with the training,
 - (v) administration, including routine medical and dental care.
- (b) Oman shall bear the cost of:
- (i) the pay and allowances mentioned in subparagraph (a) of Article 4,
 - (ii) return commercial transportation between Oman and Canada, including all internal transit costs,
 - (iii) major medical care relating to serious injury and illness and major dental care, and
 - (iv) ex-gratia payments made under Article 13.

ARTICLE 4

Pay and Allowances

Trainees during their period of training in Canada shall be paid as follows:

- (a) Oman shall issue to the credit of each trainee in Oman such pay and allowances, according to his rank, as he may be entitled to receive under Omani regulations. The Oman authorities will assume responsibilities for arrangements such as assignments or deductions from such pay and allowances which may be required to meet such obligations as the support of a trainee's dependents in Oman. A trainee may make private arrangements to draw upon any balance of such pay and allowances remaining to his credit to meet his personal expenses while in Canada, if and to the extent that such arrangements are permitted by the Oman authorities. Pay and allowances issued by Oman shall be exempt from Canada taxation.
- (b) Allowances shall be issued by Canada to each trainee, to meet his living and other expenses during his period of training, as follows:
 - (i) a Ration Allowance, in an amount to be determined by the Minister of National Defence, at any time that rations are not provided to the trainee free of charge.
 - (ii) a Leave Transport Allowance when appropriate, having regard to the duration of the training, and at the rates applicable to members of the Canadian Forces.
- (c) Allowances issued by Canada shall be exempt from Oman taxation.