

homelessness, unemployment or gutter education, are immense. No country or people can afford the extension of this anguish, even for a day."