CANADIAN BROADCASTING CORPORATION—
DIRECTORS

Mr. MASSEY:

1. Who are the directors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation?
2. What are their several occupations?
3. When were they appointed, and for how long?

Mr. HOWE:

Order in council, P.C. 2369, of September 10, 1936, authorized the appointment of Messrs. Leonard W. Brockington, of the city of Winnipeg, barrister at law; Rene Morin, of Montreal, general manager; and Mrs. Nellie McClung, of Victoria, as members of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for a term of three years from the date of the coming into force of the Canadian Broadcasting Act, November 2, 1936.

Mr. J. Wilfrid Godfrey of the city of Halifax, barrister at law, Captain (Reverend)

Alexander Vachon, of Quebec, director of chemical research; and Colonel Wilfrid Bovey, of Montreal, barrister at law and educationalist, were appointed for the two-year term; and Nathan Louis Nathanson, of Toronto, president of Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Limited; Alan Butterworth Plaunt, of Ottawa, journalist; and Brigadier-General Victor W. Odlum, of Vancouver, were appointed for the one-year term.

By order in council, P.C. 1157, of May 29, 1937, the resignation of Colonel Wilfrid Bovey was accepted and Reverend Eastland Fuller, of Campbellton, New Brunswick, a canon of the Church of England, was appointed for the unexpired portion of the two-year term for which Colonel Bovey had been appointed.

On the expiration of the one-year term for which Nathan L. Nathanson, Alan Butterworth Plaunt, and Brigadier-General Odlum were appointed, these three gentlemen were, by order in council, P.C. 2641, of October 27, 1937, re-appointed for the term of three years from the 2nd day of November, 1937.
