

the bond, knowing that both papers were legally void, until he affixed his seal to the bond or authorised it to be done, and sworn to the truth of the affidavit of justification after the blanks were filled in.

3. That within the space of a few minutes thereafter, and the blanks not written in and no seals affixed nor Van Blarcom's or Delap's signatures on the paper, I simply acknowledged my signature to Samuel Hall as a witness saying: "Mr. Hall that is my signature," and at once never be called upon to pay, and never to be petitioner's real estate.

11