The Woman Worker in Canada

How Can Canadian Girls or Women Make Best Use of Opportunities?

traordinary degree by war conditions.
"There will be no room in the new world for the idle woman," was stated not long ago by a leader in women's work. "The rained, skilled wom-an worker in the home and in employment is the woman who will con-tribute most largely to the happiness and usefulness of the future world. She is the woman who will gain happiness herself and who will win the regard of her fellowmen and women." In Great Britain, France, Canada and the United States it is recognized that the work of women in industry, that the work of women in industry, agriculture, business, finance, public utilities, and in almost every form of essential production, has been one of the greatest factors in main: aining the cause of the allied nations. Canadian women, who have entered paid employment so that they might the strength of Canada in this war, have taught women workers that their work is most effective production of an essential character. Thus, we see, that the paid woman worker of patriotic motive is tending more and more to work in munitions, and on the land, and in any form of industry which produces

The following gentlemen had the hor of being invited to meet Prince Arthur "Four years ago not a girl in our porority was in paid employment." Now there is not one who is not in a position."

The young woman who spoke has graduated this year from a Canadian university. She has had a holiday and is on the eve of beginning professional work. When asked what positions these college girls were entering, she replied that most of them were in banks, had become nurses, or in banks, had become nurses, or in benness offices. "We have to work to be happy." was her closing contribution to the conversation.

Hon. Dr. Cody Speaks.

Tribute to the great work of women in backing up the men in France, Flanders and the homeland, was given by Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education. Women had shown themselves equal to every emergency and the best recognition that men could give of this was when they gave them the vote. Hon. Dr. Cody spoke of the wonderful work of reconstruction and said that the women who had presented the ambulance had always shown an interest in the base hospital. He hoped that the authorities of the hospital would induce the higher authorities to supply the gasoline. Fred Hambly, president of Ward Two Association, added a few words

FOOD DEMONSTRATION SHOWS MANY NEW IDEAS

Salads, salad dressings and tomato jam were all demonstrated at the food demonstration given yesterday afternoon at St Andrew's Institute under the auspices of the Women's Patriotic League, the demonstrator being Mrs. Esson Reid.

Left-overs, in the shape of bits of coid chicken, tenderloin, veal or fish may be used in the making of very tempting salads, the demonstrator told her class of interested listeners. Canned neats are also, good, but it is well not to use them to any great extent, as these may be sent overseas. Lettuce and green peas with French dressing; butter beans, sliced tomatoes, with ceanut butter; tomatoes stuffed with greens; varieties of dressings, how to stuff cooked eggs for the table and for the lunch box were all included in the demonstration. Tomato jam was made by washing. custing, boiling and straining solid red tomatoes. The remainder was then boiled to a desired thickness, when a pound of granulated sugar was added to a pint of the liquid and the com-pound allowed to boil for three minutes. If preferred, a little lemon may be added. This makes a delicious condiment to serve with cold meats.
