"The mouth of the Amazon," said a professor of geography in a St. Louis female seminary, "is the biggest mouth in the world—present company always excepted."

"You are very handsome," said a gentleman to a lady. "Pooh!" said the lady, "so you would say if you did not think so." "And so you would think," answered he, "though I should not say so."

Two grammarians were wrangling the other day, one contending that it was only proper to say, "My wages is high," while the other noisily insisted that the correct thing was, "My wages are high." Finally they stopped a day-laborer, and submitted the question to him. "Which do you say, Your wages is high, or, Your wages are high?" "Oh, off wid your nonsense!" he said, resuming his pick, "yer nathur ov ye right; me wages is low, bad luck to 'em."

"Did you say that my brother Jim didn't know as much as Smith's dog?" "No; I said Smith's dog knew more than your brother Jim."

An old bachelor explains the courage of the Turks by saying that a man with more than one wife ought to be willing to face death at any time.

I have noticed that money is the fool's wisdom, the knaves reputation, the poor man's desire, the covetous man's ambition, and the idol of them all.

"MADAM," said a trance medium, "your husband's spirit wishes to communicate with you."

"No matter," said the widow; "If he's got no more spirit in the other world than he had in this, it's not worth bothering about."

TEACHER with reading class: Boy (reading)—"And as she sailed down the river—" Teacher—

"Why are ships called she?" Boy (precosciously alive to the responsibilities of his sex)—"Because they need men to manage them."
