Morning War Summary

London, Feb. 10, 10.15 p.m.—After two days of debate, during which many matters in connection with the war were discussed, the house of commons tonight passed, without division the army estimates for 3,000,000 men, exclusive of India, and also by a "token" vote provided for the pay of the officers and men. By this vote the government will receive a blank check for this purpose.

Replying to points raised by members of the house, Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary for war, said that in case of a raid on England, General Sir Ian Hamilton was in command of a mobile force which was ready to go anywhere at any time.

There was considerable discussion of the question of inoculation against disease, in reply to which Mr. Tennant declared the sentiment in favor of compulsory inoculation was increasing, and that the government was considering adopting it.

Lord Kitchener, secretary for war, felt so strongly about the matter, Mr. Tennant said, that he was about to issue an order suspending grants of leave to those persons who declined to be inoculated.

The under secretary added that the suggestion that the war office should consent to the enlistment of "bantam battalions" was being considered. In the mining districts, he said, there were many men under the regulation height who desire to serve in the army, and some of them already were in training.

London, Feb. 10, 10 p.m.—Under mid-winter conditions the Russian and Austro-German armies are fighting another series of battles, for possession of the Carpathian passes which will decide whether the Russian troops will commence another invasion of Hungary or be compelled to evacuate part of Galicia, as they have done in Bukovina.

The Russians have issued two official reports of the operations, according to which they have far out all the better of the fighting. Their right wing has at any rate, succeeded in crossing the mountains, for it has been engaged in a battle near Bartfeld and Svidnik, which are on the Hungarian side of the Carpathians and on the edge of the plains which sweep down to Budapest.

This army, too, threatens the rear of the Austro-Germans, who, having entered Lupkow Pass to the east, have been waiting for them there. The hardest fighting, however, has occurred on the Galician side of Tulkolka Pass, where on Sunday the Austro-Germans captured the heights in the region of Kosziowka, only to be driven from them after a bayonet fight, which the Russian report described as being "without precedent in history".

The battle is said, by correspondents to have been terrific. The Germans brought up their best reinforcements to aid the Austrians army and themselves led the attack. Backed by heavy artillery they assaulted the Russian position on the heights of Kosziowka, but found themselves under an enfilading fire from the Russians on parallel hills and were cut off from the main German column. They were then attacked by the Russian infantry who drove them back at the point of the bayonet.

Attack followed counter-attack until the Russians had regained their old positions, leaving the slopes, according to their report, "littered with bodies of the dead Germans".

The fighting here seems to have been as desperate and sanguinary as that which has occurred before the Warsaw lines during the last week, and so far as can be judged by official and unofficial reports has been just as unsuccessful for the Germans. The latter have now assumed the offensive on the southern border of East Prussia, and as a result another important battle is developing in that region. Of the battle in the northern part of East Prussia neither official communication speaks.

At the other extreme end of the line, in Bukovina, the Russians are falling back before superior Austrian forces, but still hold the greater part of that province.

There has been little or no fighting in Flanders, France or Alsace, although the artillery and airmen continue active. It is believed that the Germans are preparing for another attack on the British line near La Bassée, which, if successful, would open the door to the French coast, from which the Germans hope to threaten England.

RUSSIAN MONOPOLY OF MANY STAPLES

State May Take Over Merchandizing of Tea, Oil, Tobacco and Matches

Petrograd, Feb. 10.—The Ways and Means Committee of the Duma has unanimously recommended that the government declare a monopoly on tea, tobacco, oil, matches and insurance of all kinds. The recommendation, it is said, virtually assures the passage of the bill by the Duma.

The bill declares that hereafter the things named shall form the basis of the government revenue which heretofore has been derived from the monopoly on vodka and from an indirect tax on certain necessities.

In Odessa and in Nikolai, on the Bug River, the government has sequestered all the property of German stock companies, including factories, car lines, hotels and tenements.

HOT PEPPERS—COLD LAMB, FINE DISH FOR SUPPER

(By Caroline Coe)

If you have some cold lamb left from yesterday's dinner this is a good way to prepare it for a second appearance on the table. Take two cups of hot cooked rice, add one tablespoon of butter, and one cup of minced green pepper, salt and pepper to taste. Dice enough cold cooked lamb to make two cups, and mix carefully with the rice mixture. Turn all into a well buttered deep bowl and steam thirty minutes. Turn out on hot platter and send to table with brown butter in gravy boat.

BILL TO ABOLISH HANGING

Amendment to Protect Real Estate Purchasers—Query on High Cost of Living

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—At the opening of the House today Robert Bickerdike's bill for the abolition of capital punishment was given a first reading without discussion.

G. E. McCraney, of Saskatoon, then introduced an act to amend the criminal code. Mr. McCraney explained that his bill was designed to protect the purchaser of real estate held by the vendor only under agreement of sale, with no title except his agreement. It sometimes happened that the purchaser was unable to get his title or his money back, the vendor diverting the money to other uses than confirming the title. Mr. McCraney thought that money paid under these circumstances should be treated as trust money, held for the purchaser, until he obtained his title. The bill got a first reading. Sir Wilfrid Laurier drew the government's attention to the fact that in the report presented by last session's special committee on the Dominion Elections Act it had been stated that bills containing desired amendments to the election laws would be drafted to be considered by another committee to be appointed at the next session of parliament. He asked whether such a committee was to be appointed.

Sir Robert Borden stated that the minister of justice intended to move for such a committee.

In reply to a question by Hon. George P. Graham, the premier stated he was not yet prepared to say whether the Railway Act would be gone ahead with this session.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley asked when a report might be expected from the High Cost of Living Committee, appointed a year ago. The question had become very much accentuated by reason of the rapid and incalculable increase in the cost of foodstuffs in Canada since the war began.

The question was ruled out of order at the time by the Speaker.

Two questions were asked of General Sam Hughes today in regard to the purchase of the boats supplied to the First Canadian Contingent. The minister told J. H. Sinclair that an investigation had been conducted by a board appointed by himself, which had now concluded, and the result of which inquiry would shortly be laid before parliament.

General Hughes told Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux that the following firms had manufactured the boats: Ames-Holden-McCreedy Company, Ltd., of Montreal; The Tetreault Manufacturing Company, of Montreal; The Slater Shoe Company, of Montreal; Louis Gauthier Company, of Quebec; John McPherson Company, of Hamilton; Hart Boot & Shoe Company, of Fredericton; and The Amherst Boot & Shoe Company, of Amherst (N. S.). The price paid was $3.55 per pair, except in the case of the Hart Boot & Shoe Company, which was $3.65 per pair. The boots manufactured by the Ames-Holden-McCreedy and the Slater Shoe Companies were inspected at the factories before delivery by J. Frender and W. Wilson. The boots of the Tetreault Manufacturing Company were inspected by W. Silve and A. E. Baldwin. The Gauthier Company's boots were inspected by W. J. Jacques. The boots manufactured by the McPherson, Hart and Amherst firms were sent to Valcartier Camp without previous inspection at the factory.

Hon. C. J. Doherty told Mr. Sinclair that the total number of aliens belonging to enemy countries paroled or interned in Canada since the outbreak of the war was 30,234. Of these 1,904 had been interned in prison camps, and 28,420 had been paroled after registration. There had been registered in the different provinces the following: Quebec, 8,845; Ontario, 7,571; New Brunswick, 5,200; Nova Scotia, 1,800; Manitoba, 5,521; Saskatchewan, 1,410; Alberta, 2,530; British Columbia, 1,810, and the Yukon, 55.

Air Raid on Dusseldorf.
London, Feb. 11, 2.40 a. m.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Rotterdam reports a successful air raid by the Allies over Dusseldorf.

"The Germans," according to the correspondent, "fearing such a raid at Dusseldorf, recently built a secret storehouse some distance away from the arsenal, into which war material and explosives from the arsenal were moved. The raiders discovered this store, and dropped bombs upon it and set it afire."
