HEAVY VOTE BEING POLLED TODAY

INTEREST IN ELECTIONS AT FEVER PITCH

Women Taking Particularly Keen Interest In Fight

MANY AUTOS OUT

Common Clerk Kept Busy With Those Whose Names Were Omitted

INTEREST in the election campaign was at fever heat today and the indications are that a very heavy vote would be polled in Saint John before the closing hours this afternoon.

The weather was threatening but up to noon there had not been any rain and this was a factor in getting out the vote.

A feature of the voting today was the large number of voters who were taken to the polling places in motor vehicles, each seemingly having an unlimited number of cars at their disposal.

The women voters turned out in force and in most of the booths there was a steady stream of voters from that time on. It was said in most cases that the early vote was larger than usual.

The weather was threatening but up to noon there had not been any rain and this was a factor in getting out the vote.

Special telephones have been installed and the returns will be relayed by the New Brunswick Telephone Company.

The Opposition will receive the returns at the Seaside institute at a large blackboard has been set up on the platform so that the figures can be seen from any part of the meeting.

A. D. Merkel, Halifax, superintendent of the Canadian Press, has been in the city for several days and has completed arrangements for the quick and efficient handling of the returns for the benefit of the Canadian Press clients.

Reports from Dukes and Sydney wards today at noon show that the vote up to that time was considered above normal. The ward workers were out in force and great activity prevailed.
