From any angle it looks like one of the best matches that could be arranged, as it was here that Lewis de-

PLEA FOR MUNITION WORKERS.

To the Editor of the Times-Star:

Sir,—Would you allow me to say a few words regarding a question of employment in St. John and it is a serious one as the writer knows. Now, Sir, with all due regard for the men who are overseas and their claim for employment on return it seems to me there is another class of workers who also are entitled to some consideration, the munition workers, or as the government call them during the war the men behind the gun. Speaking from experience as chief inspector of munitions for a period of over three years I assure you there were many men employed on munitions who would gladly have gone overseas but were prevented from doing so by the provisions of the munition board and the contractors. The walls of the shell plants were also decorated with posters and literature urging the men to stand by the laythes and stories told of the men at the crews on the firing line calling for shells and then more shells. The response to those calls I need not mention; it is on record. Then Kitchener said the men on munitions were doing equally as valuable work as the men at the front and all know the desperate straits the army at the front were in for lack of shells in the early days of the war, and we also know who remedied that and enabled Foch to launch his last great drive. Now, Mr. Editor, the writer is an imperial army veteran of other wars and tried to do his bit in this one, by sending shells to France, but is now like many others who served in a like capacity entirely ignored when it comes to a question of employment to enable them to support their families, and surely if the men who fired the shells are entitled to consideration, and they are, the men and the women, too, who supplied those shells are equally deserving. England thinks so judging from the way she has found employment and in other ways helped the munition workers after being thrown out of work. Other parts of Canada have considered them too. How about St. John? Trusting this will not find its way to the waste paper basket, like the promises we got, I am, Sir, Respectfully yours,

THE MAN BEHIND THE MAN BEHIND THE GUN.

AIRPLANE IN CHURCH

WINDOW DECORATION

London, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press).—The church in Spanish Place where King Alfonso attended during his visit to London, has recently received a new window in honor of St. Michael, the patron saint of airmen. It shows an airplane with the inscription, "Defende Nos in Proelio." It is said to be the first window in which a flying machine has been a feature of a church design.

Why Stay Fat?

You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A large case is sold by druggists at 81. Or if preferred, they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

BIG BOUT TONIGHT.

Bridgeport Green, middleweight champion of New England, arrived in the city in the pink of condition and will meet Brooks in St. Andrew's rink tonight.
