Opening of Hostilities Is Now Considered Improbable

LONDON HOPEFUL

Reassuring Communications Exchanged Between Britain

with England will continue to be This was almost the last remark made by Tewlik Rushdi Bay, Turkish foreign minister, before boarding his train last night to return to Angora.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 17 .--Upon receipt of the League of Nations decision in the Turk-British dispute over Mosul, the Turkish cabinet at Angora was immediately called into session by President Mustapha Kemal Pasha.

MONTREAL—E. Trudeau, 52, a farmer of St. Michel, Que, dropped dead in his sleigh yesterday, and was drawn to his home, a distance of 25 miles, by the LONDON, Dec. 17.—A most hopeful view taken here regarding the situation growing out of the endorsement by the League of Nations, of Great Britain's position respecting the Mosul boundary in the kingdom of Irak, is that opportunity is now to be given negotiators to attempt to arrange friendly understanding between Turkey and Great Britain. VANCOUVER, B. C. — James Downie, 43, blinded in the war, whose basket work has won prizes at Wembley and Toronto exhibitions, died here in a military hospital.

EDMONTON — Suffocated by fumes of carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust of his cae, Harry J. Smith was found dead yesterday in the garage at his farm in Clover Bar. Hostilities between Türkey and Great Britain over the latter having secured the mandate for the rich oil and agriculture region, are not considered probable, either in London or in League of Nations circles in Geneva.

In some quarters in London, the government's attitude toward Turkey is said to embrace a desire to see Turkey live and not be stifled or paralyzed.

It is reported that reassuring communications regarding Mosul already have passed between London and Angora, and it is expected that Premier Baldwin will make a statement to parliament on the situation at an early date. Until he does so, the line the government purposes to take, is likely to remain pure guess work. WAR UNLIKELY HAMILTON, Ont. — One of Canada's best known trapshooters, Thomas W. Barnes, died here yesterday. He was a member of Canada's trapshooting team at the 1924 Olympics. MONTREAL—Joseph Tremblay, bricklayer, was awarded $8,000 damages against the Anglin Norcross, Limited, contractors, for injuries received while employed by the company. Tremblay fell from a scaffold. VANCOUVER, B. C.—That he recommended jay walking because "When I cross at the crossing I have got to protect myself from four angles," was the comment of Judge David Grant to a County Court jury yesterday.
