COP HOUSE

There was nothing of very much importance doing this morning in police court. Mike Kelly, one of the regular patrons, got four months for being drunk and profane, and Samuel Johnston, Fred Reed, Patrick Kelly and John Wood were fined eight dollars or two months each.

George Kirkpatrick was arrested on a warrant charging him with assault on his wife Dora. The complainant could not be found and the prisoner was remanded.

Several cases reported by the Board of Health were dealt with. They were persons who had been in before.

Two little boys who had been in a fight were sent home.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND BURYING GROUND.

The general make-up of the Church of England graveyard, Westmorland road, is causing some talk among owners of lots there. Very little effort is apparently made to keep the place presentable. The grass is allowed to grow till at times it looks more like a hayfield than a graveyard.

Only a few years ago the Church of England graveyard was one of the prettiest spots near the city and was frequented daily by numbers of visitors. Now even the owners of lots dislike to visit the place and hardly show a disposition to keep their own lots in order since there is such looseness on the part of those in authority.

MRS. KITCHIN IN HARD LUCK.

It now appears as though George Kitchin's disappearance from the city were partly due to financial troubles. He has not let any money for his wife, and Mrs. Kitchin is in pretty hard circumstances. She has no money and does not know what she is going to do. She believes that her husband, who is now said to be in Boston, is already sorry for the way he has acted and would gladly come home.

FIRE ALARM THIS MORNING.

An alarm was rung in between ten and eleven o'clock this forenoon from Box 5 for a small blaze in a woodpile in Gibbon's coal yard. The damage was trifling and the services of the department were not required.

The sounding of an alarm during the busy hours of the day brought out many hundreds of people, and for a time Union and Dock streets were blocked.

CALIFORNIAN FRUIT.

A. L. Goodwin received yesterday morning a carload of Californian fruit direct from the coast. It consisted of peaches, pears and plums of the finest quality, and these are being sold at very reasonable prices. Mr. Goodwin gets a carload of this fruit every week.

TURNED HIS WIFE AND CHILD OUT.

Mrs. Bernard Kennedy and her child, who live on the Westmoreland road, sought the assistance of the police last evening. Kennedy had turned his wife and child out of the house, but about eight o'clock Officers Smith and Birchill succeeded in having her re-admitted.

AT FORT DUFFERIN.

The Island Men are Having a Good Time.

Things are very quiet at Fort Dufferin today, the prevalence of fog in the bay rendering firing impracticable. The Prince Edward Island men who arrived yesterday are passing the day in gun drill.

They number thirty-eight, exclusive of officers. They are the 4th and 5th companies, in command of Captain Leslie and Captain W. A. Johnson respectively. The lieutenants with the corps are 2nd Lieut. W. A. Leslie of No. 4 company and Lieut. T. Donahoe of No. 5 company.

The Islanders leave for home on Thursday and will be replaced on Friday by Nos. 1 and 2 companies from Charlottetown, in command of Capt. A. G. Peake and Capt. A. A. Bartlett.

The Quebec men leave for home on the 15th, to be in readiness for the artillery camp to be held on the Isle of Orleans, between the 15th of August and the 5th of September. The camp at Orleans is conducted on something the same principle as the Fort Dufferin camp, but the ordinance used is much heavier, and a longer range.

The men expected to participate in the camp on the Isle of Orleans are the 2nd Montreal Garrison regiment, 5th Quebec and Lewis regiment, companies from Coburg, Quebec, and a corps from Quebec garrison.

LAST NIGHT'S BOUT.

It Was a Rather Tame Affair All Through.

While last night's boxing exhibition in the Victoria rink may have seemed satisfactory to some, the majority of those present were much disappointed. It was a very tame affair and not at all like what was expected. The boxers, besides being unevenly matched, took the greatest care not to hit each other in any way that could hurt.

As sparring it was a pretty contest, but as an exhibition of boxing it was a farce, and all the talking done by the contestants before the scrap turns out to be nothing more nor less than the customary pugilistic gas.

Connolly may not be in Sullivan's class, but as nothing was done last night by which an opinion could be formed, the two have still an opportunity for declaring their ability to whip each other.

From the spectators' standpoint the weights given by the boxers, 145 lbs., seemed utterly ridiculous. They took thirty pounds more—but the scales may have been wrong.

Billy Keefe refereed the bout and, of course, called it a draw. There was nothing else to do. The men avoided injuring each other, and as they did no work of any particular moment, they were both fresh at the end of the tenth round. For this exhibition receipts running up to thousands of dollars were taken.

It must, however, be said that there was some pretty, albeit ineffective, work done. Both men have skill—and extreme caution.

The McLeod-Flaherty bout was somewhat different. These are local men, young, and anxious for honor. They were both out for victory and put up a very good exhibition. But they were not evenly matched, and in the third round McLeod gave the decision. He was a hard worker, and, although Flaherty is no quitter, the pace was too swift for him.

The rink was packed to the doors, and while the spectators were crowding in the crush was so great that a number were slightly injured.

SOME WATER SUPPLY FACTS.

Either the water of Spruce Lake is better than that of Little River, or else the West Side people are less bountifully supplied than those on the east. St. John people supplied from Little River obtained last year 121 9-10 gallons of water per day for each inhabitant. Those supplied from the West Side, exclusive of the Cushing pulp mills, received 106 6-10 gallons. But for each tap on the East Side 931 gallons were used, while 931 was the quantity for each West Side tap, which means that Carleton and Fairville are not so well supplied with taps.

But there is more than enough water for all. The quantity which overflowed at the Little River washway, and went out to sea, was about three times the quantity which went through the pipes. The engineer states that the quantity of water which flowed into Little River reservoir last year would have supplied a city of 15,000 people in the same quantity per head that is now delivered to the East Side.

Spruce Lake is still more liberal. The mains from that reservoir delivered last year 509,661,000 gallons, or an average of 1,986-30 per day. The overflow was 6,880,000 gallons per day or more than five-sixths of the whole. Of the quantity delivered, 54,803,600, or a little more than half, went to the Cushing Pulp Mill. Spruce Lake is therefore capable of supplying more than ten times the present population of 8,345 on the line of the West Side pipes.
