

SERBIAN ARMY REORGANIZED MARCHING TOWARD AUSTRIAN BORDER BELIEVED ON ANOTHER INVASION

LT. GOV. WOOD AT CELEBRATION IN FREDERICTON

His Honor Presides at Empire Day Programme at Capital—Rev. Dr. Campbell One of the Speakers.

Fredericton, May 21.—Lieutenant Governor Wood presided today in connection with the celebration of Empire Day. At Parliament Square the school children were lined up, and after the Fredericton Brass Band had rendered patriotic selections, the city school children and the Normal School students sang songs of a patriotic character.

His Honor delivered a stirring address, in course of which he said: "The Mother Country is today engaged in a terrible struggle; she is obliged to fight a foe composed of the fiercest and most formidable combination of a fighting force the world has ever seen. Upon the issue of this terrific struggle depends the maintenance of her prestige as a power among the nations of the earth. It also involves the securities of our liberties as Canadians and the safety of our homes. It is our duty in this crisis to aid the Empire to the fullest possible extent."

"Those whose age and physical strength fits them for it should volunteer to enlist and go as so many have already gone to face danger and death at the front. The older and the younger among us who are unfit for active service on the battle field should enter the training camps and prepare themselves to assist in home defence, or, if required in the various ways as Cadets or Boy Scouts, they can render useful services."

Rev. Dr. Campbell next spoke and gave reasons in support of the contention that the cause of the Empire in the present war is just and must prevail.

RECRUITING RALLY HELD AT NEWCASTLE

Newcastle, May 21.—Major Donald of the 55th Battalion addressed a meeting here in Town Hall last night, after a preliminary address in the afternoon. He explained that about 50 recruits were wanted at once from this county.

Of the 600 men who went to Sussex, 82 were from P. E. I., and about the same from Northumberland, 160 from the whole North Shore. But a draft of 242 men had been demanded at once for reinforcements to the army at the front. More drafts would be needed. The county districts did not realize that men were needed.

He suggested a recruiting committee for Northumberland West. The newspapers were advertising free, and the clergymen were asked to make special efforts next Sunday to get recruits.

J. D. Creighton, chairman; Mayor Stothart, Ald. McGrath, Rev. S. J. MacArthur, Rev. Fa'ner Dixon, Rev. D. Harrison, W. A. Park and others spoke.

The following central committee were chosen with power to add to their numbers from the parishes: Mayor Stothart, Ald. D. Ritchie, secretary; D. J. Buckle, E. H. Sinclair, W. A. Park, J. D. Creighton, Ald. F. C. McGrath, A. A. Davidson, W. J. Jardine and ex-Mayor C. J. Morrissey.

The western parishes will be canvassed within a week.

Lieut. H. S. Murray is local recruiting officer. He has joined the 55th himself.

EYE-WITNESS STORY OF BATTLE OF YPRES

(Continued from page 1) They lined up by the roadside that was part of the business too. They stuck out the live-long days and nights, coming up full and going away empty, with no more time than is made by delivery wagons on Drummond street in Montreal.

The medical officers had the distraction of incessant work, and it was

Australian Troops Brilliantly Avenged Their Leader's Death

Melbourne, Australia via London, May 21 (11.30 p. m.)—General Sir Ian Hamilton, commander-in-chief of the British forces at the Dardanelles, in a cablegram today to the governor, expressing regret for the death of Brigadier-General Bridges, a commander of the Australian forces at the Dardanelles, who died as the result of a wound, says: "The irreparable loss was brilliantly avenged yesterday by his own troops who inflicted a loss of seven thousand on the enemy, our loss being under five hundred."

ENEMY'S ADVANCE BROUGHT TO HALT SOUTHEAST OF PRZEMYSL

Austria Surrounded on All Sides by Enemies Likely to Find Roumania, Greece and Bulgaria Arrayed Against Her.

London, May 21.—Simultaneously with the anticipated advent of Italy into the war, Serbia's re-constructed army has fully recovered from the campaigns which resulted in the Austrians being driven from Serbia, and well armed and equipped it is announced, has commenced a march toward the Austrian border, bent on another invasion of Austrian territory.

These anticipations explain the tremendous effort that Austria and Germany are making to complete the defeat of the Russians, who having been forced out of Western Galicia and the Carpathians, now are offering stubborn resistance to the further advance of the Germanic allies behind the San river and around Przemyśl. Although the Germans have crossed the San north of Przemyśl, and the Austrians have advanced to the southeast of that town, they appear at last to have been brought to a halt, as today's report from Berlin does not claim any further progress.

Just to the north, in Poland, the Russians are carrying on a strong offensive and driving the Germans back, have at least partly exhausted the German flank in Galicia. However, after the way they have been driven back, and the heavy artillery bombardment they have had to undergo, the Russians must take some time to regain the initiative.

Since foggy weather has stopped the battles in the west the Allies have confined themselves to attempts to improve and organize the positions gained, and in this they claim to have been successful, although the Germans state that all the Allies attacks have been repulsed.

Unofficial despatches from Athens continue to report successes for the Allies, but official quarters remain silent—an attitude which meets with some criticism.

BRITISH BRING DOWN ENEMY AEROPLANE NEAR YPRES

Operations Hampered by Weather, But British Take More Ground from Enemy Near Neuve Chapelle — Infantry Shows Great Gallantry in Charge on German Positions.

London, May 21.—"Since my last communication of the 17th," says Sir John French, the British commander-in-chief, in an official communication made public tonight, "the operations have been hampered by the weather."

"But in spite of this our troops have made appreciable progress east and south of La Quingne Road (near Neuve Chapelle). The main characteristics of these operations have been numerous local fights, for strong positions behind the enemy's line. In capturing several of these points our infantry has again displayed great gallantry."

"On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report, except minor artillery engagements."

"Last night we brought down a German aeroplane in the neighborhood of Ypres."

curious to see how they took their professional manner into the field. Half the cities and towns in the Dominion might have identified their own doctors under the official uniforms, as far as they could have seen them. Although they were working at high pressure they were unmistakably the same men. Some were as polite as though each poor mangled case represented (which it might well have done), the lives and hopes of wealthy and well known families. Others employed the same little phrases of encouragement and the same tricks of tone and gesture at the beginning and end of the operations as their hospitaliers have known for years.

For some the memory of that struggle in the wood where the guns were will stand out clearest in the raw primitiveness of its fighting. Others will recall only struggles among rubbish heaps that once were villages.

Their Dear Ones. Then, as we buried our dead, the records began to be made. And the terrible cables started to work on the list of names for home.

The grief that we suffer is more new to us than to the English, who have paid the heavy tolls of Mons. The retreat, the battle of Neuve Chapelle, and the first attack on Ypres, and, like ourselves, have prepared and are preparing men to fill the gaps; but through their grief and ours runs the unbreakable pride of a race that has called itself imperial before we knew what Empire signified, or had proved itself within its own memory by loss and open-handed sacrifice.

In that pride we are full partners, and through the din and confusion of battle Canada perceives how all that has gone before was but fit preparation for the destiny upon which she enters and the history which she opens from this hour.

Suffered Intense Pain in Her Back. Could Hardly Do Her Housework. If a pain attacks you in the back "stop and think" what it is and what causes it. If the kidneys are at fault—and in a large majority of cases of pain in the back they are—doctor them at once, and doctor them persistently, as it is impossible to have a well strong back unless the kidneys perform their functions properly.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all terms of kidney trouble, and cure them to stay cured. Mrs. H. F. Jacob, Lavant Station, Ont., writes: "I take pleasure in telling you how much good your medicine has done me. I had suffered from intense pain in my back, and was so bad I could hardly do my housework. My kidneys were also bothering me a great deal. I tried several kinds of patent medicines, and was almost discouraged, and was looking for some other kind of medicine to try when I noticed your advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, so I thought it could not hurt to try them. I noticed a great difference when I had used one box, and to my great relief when I had used three boxes I was entirely cured, and I have not been bothered since. I will not hesitate to recommend them to all I know."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c a box, or 3 boxes for $1.35, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. When ordering direct specify "Doan's"

EMPIRE DAY CELEBRATION AT BATHURST

Interesting Meeting—Stirring Addresses by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Rev. J. J. McCaskill and Other Speakers.

Special to The Standard. Bathurst, May 21.—An inspiring Empire Day celebration was held here tonight, the feature of which was the patriotic addresses by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter and Rev. J. J. McCaskill of St. John's. There was a large attendance and the speakers were heard with keen enjoyment.

Hon. Mr. Baxter in the course of his address referred to the popular conception of Great Britain as a nation of shopkeepers, but that as much as anything else contributed to British success for the honesty which found its expression in the splendid record of British business was also the underlying principle which made the British people regard treaty obligations as more than mere scraps of paper. Since the outbreak of active hostilities the British troops had demonstrated to the world what a splendid showing could be made by a peace loving nation when called upon to don the panoply of war in defence of a righteous cause.

He emphasized the importance of the present Empire Day. It found the Empire united in conflict against the foes of civilization. The Empire could only be as strong as the individual for it was the collective effort and collective thought of the individuals in the Empire which went to make up the character of the Empire as a whole. In a brilliant peroration he exhorted Canadian young manhood to bear bravely and willingly its part in the development of this Canada and of the great British Empire of which this Dominion forms so proud a part.

Rev. J. J. McCaskill spoke on "The Britain of the Future," and in the course of his address made said: "Looking is more unprofitable than an attempt to prophecy, so I am not going to undertake it. We merely hope to indicate a increase of riches? The cosmic desolation of the present world hardly be justified if our future should find another a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are to justify the present we must give more attention to the high endeavors of the soul. Is it too much to hope that the real 'Merrie England' of an earlier day will be brought back? The Britons sober, happy, free, where men or women are not exploited for the profit or constituted for the pleasure of another; a Britain in few of the things that must follow if we are