The Sword of the Civilizer in Central Africa. Trademen have penetrated Africa for centuries, but instead of doing anything for the civilization, they have turned their attention solely to profiting by its barbarism. Missionaries and scientists have traveled over the wastes and sailed over its waters, but have done nothing for the regeneration of its people. But now the true civilizer, the sword, has been carried up the valley of the Nile, and a Central African Empire looms up in the not distant future.

A party of gentlemen left for Spring Hill Mines this morning, and another party for the Fort Phillip Free-stone Quarries. Some of the gentlemen are interested in the development of these deposits, and the others are about to be some purchasers of stock. Cumberland county will soon be famous for its vast mineral wealth.

Wm. Pugsley, Esq., has been gazetted as reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court. The office is worth about $1000 a year, the work will not interfere with Mr. Pugsley's business in connection with his firm, and the experience to be gained in the performance of the duties of an ambitious young lawyer of ability like Mr. Pugsley to arrive at a foremost place in his profession.

The stipendiary of the British High Joint Commissioners who negotiated the Treaty of Washington is again illustrated by the decision of the Washington authorities that seal oil cannot be admitted free by virtue of the stipulations of the Treaty. No doubt that the intention was to include seal oil, but what are intentions worth now?

The Canadian Monthly for July is the first number of Volume IV. It contains an excellent engraving of Lord Dufferin, as well as having "British America's National Note Co., Montreal" printed in a conspicuous central position. It is impossible to understand how the engravers' overlooking instincts could so entirely blunt their sense of the fitness of things.

The contents of the number include "An Old Canadian Town" - an interesting local sketch; "The Doncaster St. Ledger," a poem by Sir Hastings Doyle; "A continuation of 'Little Dorian'"; "Wickies in the West," an interesting sketch; "The Doncaster St. Ledger," a poem by Sir Hastings Doyle; "A continuation of 'Little Dorian'"; "Wickies in the West," an interesting sketch; "The Doncaster St. Ledger," a poem by Sir Hastings Doyle; "A continuation of 'Little Dorian'"; "Wickies in the West," an interesting sketch.

The narrative is picturesque, and will be found interesting to all. LOCALS. For advertisements of WANTED, LOST, FOUND, FOR SALE, REMOVED, or TO LET, see Auction column.

Can a church, one of whose trustees is a confessed and unrepentant thief, expect to advance the kingdom of God on earth at locomotive speed? The religion and respectability implied by church membership are purely microscopic where this scandalous case exists, yet preacher X professes surprise at the unwillingness of praying young men to become church members.

Preachers, purge your flocks before you talk to the "worldlings" about religion. If this man has any sense of decency he will resign his position: if the church has any sense of decency it will turn him out.

Dramatic Lyceum. A pantomime part in a play is not always interesting, as it is so difficult to understand unless the strictest attention is paid. Herring, last night, kept the attention of all present, and her acting was greeted with rounds of applause.

Twice she was called in front of the curtain, and received a perfect ovation, and all agreed that it was one of the most perfect characters ever played in the Lyceum. The support by the other members of the company was good. Wood, Louis Moore, Mary Davenport, and Lennox, took the principal parts. The performance concluded with "The Quiet Family," which was well played.

"The Murder in Manchester" and "The Quiet Family" will be repeated this evening, and no one should fail to be present and witness this performance.

The North American Circus. Two performances were given yesterday, in the afternoon and evening, at both of which there were good audiences present. The performance was a great improvement on that given before. During the week there will be two performances each day. Everybody should see the trapeze and tight-rope performances - the best that were ever witnessed in St. John.

BRAIN WORRY - Many of us pry to be delivered from sudden death and do we do we not help it? And if we do not really die of Heart disease as often as it is supposed, but of apoplexy, or congestion of the lungs, or of some other ailment, we do not help it. Men do not really die of Heart disease as often as it is supposed, but of apoplexy, or congestion of the lungs, or of some other ailment, we do not help it.

As Brain worry induces premature death, and the general nervous health, by eating the brain faster than the waste is repaired, and as the means of sustaining and increasing nervous health is no longer in doubt, the subject is a very timely one, and gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

How a Car Full of Passengers and a Stock of Fire Fuses were Sold - "Another Gift Festival." Enter a news agent with prize packages of stationery which he distributes, but which are hardly noticed by the passengers. A St. John man, one of a party, notices the packages and takes one up, examines it, and thinking to have a good joke, quietly cuts the package and slips a note paper on it, and a few sheets of note paper, two cheap lead pencils, and a set of jewelry valued at four cents, he produces the note in presence of several persons. Soon he is told round the car, boys on board take 25 cents and invest in a package; young ladies quietly slip their money in the agent's hand and get a package; cuts Yankee take out their leather wallets and produce money to invest in a package; old and young, in fact, all purchase until the stock is exhausted. One or two excited individuals by half a dozen a piece, and of course, when they are opened only the usual cents worth of stationery is found. Those on board the train are puzzled until some one asks for a corker, and the shipping merchant produces one. The cut is out of the bag in a minute - "A St. John man," another says, "Another gift festival," says another, as it was upon them that they are sold, while the few St. John men present enjoy a laugh at the others' expense.

Lois' Opera House. Last evening the banjo solo of Sam Devere was loudly applauded and had to be repeated. The programme will be changed to-night and several novelties put on. Friday night Harry Talbot takes a benefit, and no doubt, there will be a grand rush of his friends to see him for the last time. A very attractive programme will be put on.

LURE LIKE AND MORE DURABLE THAN OIL - J. Hinch, Prince William Street, is now producing enlarged photographs, finished in India Ink, that are marvellous in beauty and finish. Portraits by this process are exhibited in the window of W. K. Crawford, King Street.

Instantaneous Photography. Many people fail to get good photographs on account of their inability to sit perfectly still long enough for the impression to be fixed on the plate. T. H. Rand, Esq., Superintendent of Education, is in town, attending the school examination, and will remain and hold the Teacher's Institute next week.

Instantaneously. The picture of a crying child, taken with this light, is as distinct and well shaded as though the face had been in repose. This light has the effect of giving a more softened and pleasing look to the face than is generally seen in pictures taken by ordinary methods.

Culverwell's Summer Drink Powder will sell well this warm weather. It is reported that one of the Trustees of a St. John Church has been left in charge of all the business - the others refusing to act with him. Has a Trustee a chance to steal anything? A correspondent of the St. Stephen Journal accuses one of the village clergy of profanity in the pulpit.

Lotteries are the order of the day now. The boys in Lower Cove have drawings almost daily. The last was finished yesterday, though the names of the successful parties are not announced. The highest prize was fourteen cents. The price of tickets was three cents. Yesterday afternoon an Inquest was commenced on the body of Wiggins, who died from the effects of injuries received at South Bay. The evidence proved that the accident happened, was under the influence of liquor. The Inquest will be continued this afternoon at the dead house.

The distribution of prizes awarded to the scholars of the Christian Brothers' Academy, the examination of which closed on Tuesday, will take place this evening in St. Malachi's Hall.

The Lower Cove Wesleyan Festival was well attended last evening, and considerable money was made for the society. Another Lacrosse club is about being formed by some young men of St. John. Further notice will be given in a few days.

The two men of the woodboat Howard Holder were sent, on arrival of the boat here, to Fredericton, under a coroner's warrant, to give evidence at the inquest from Mrs. Parker's school, which was lately drowned there.

Messrs. Wm. Parks & Son advertise a superior article of grey cotton they are now making, at the New Brunswick Cotton Mills, from American stock. It is better than the English grey cottons, and is quite as cheap. Purchasers should enquire for these cottons at the dry goods stores before deciding to take any other.

Miss Wood's school gave a second performance in the City Hall, Carleton, last evening. Messrs. Dunn & Co's mill, in Carleton, and Mr. E. D. Jevett's mill, at West Head, have resumed work.

The Strawberry Festival and bazaar in aid of the Carleton Presbyterian Sabbath School, held in the City Hall last evening, was a complete success. A plentiful supply of strawberries and other refreshments were served up by the ladies in attendance. The Carleton Serenade Band furnished excellent music during the evening.

SKATING CARIVAL - Mr. Notman has completed the CARIVAL CAROON, and photographic copies in cabinet and larger sizes are now ready for sale.

The brig Euroclydon, Gould, master, from Rotterdam for Halifax, N. S., put into Swansons on the 24th ult., with loss of foremast, yards and all gear attached, mast sprung and other losses.

The ship Georgia, (formerly Wm. Cummings), 500 tons register, now at Boston, has been purchased for a foreign home at $25,000. She cleared for this port on the 7th inst., to load for the United Kingdom.

Wrecked - The brig Reeper of Barrington, N. S., from Greenland for the United States, with a cargo of chromite, was wrecked on the eastern end of Scottie Island, coast of Nova Scotia, on the 30th ult. Report received.

The schooner Alice Myrick, at Vineyard Haven on the 7th inst., reports that by observations taken, he finds the St. E. point of the breakers on Seneo Island to be 10 miles south of Monto and Mona Islands, showing an error in the chart of 20 miles. Mona Island is laid down on the charts as being 10 miles south of Seneo.

A Race across the Atlantic - The splendid new ship St. Elmo, Sloan, master, and Prospero, Willmarth, master, sailed this morning at 11 o'clock for Liverpool. The former was built by Messrs. Xevins, Fraser & Co., and registers 1428 tons. She has on board six passengers. The latter vessel was built by Messrs. Flewelling at Clifton, and registers 1827 tons. Master Chas. Pritchard, son of Captain Pritchard, who is returning to his school, and the Rev. Mr. Kee, are passengers on board of her. Both vessels, by their appearance, bids fair to be fast sailers, the prospero, however, seemingly having a slight advantage over the other in the fineness of her bottom. Many persons were gathered on the wharves watching the vessels off, and the discussion as to the relative prospects of each was quite lively.

IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL secure the benefit of its free circulation. THE DAILY TRIBUNE claims the largest circulation of any daily published in St. John.

The School Examinations - The Advanced School - Interesting Exercises. The pupils of the Advanced Schools assembled in the Institute this morning. There was a large attendance, both of pupils and spectators. The pupils being older than those in attendance in the former days much less time was lost in getting to work and a little before ten the exercises commenced. The Institute hall presented a very pleasing appearance. The young lady pupils were principally arranged on one side, and the boys on the other. The ladies' side was, of course, most attractive, all the colors of the rainbow being seen in the dresses. Fair and cheerful faces, beaming with intelligent interest in the exercises, made a very pleasing picture. The bright and intelligent faces of the boys seemed rival those of the young ladies. Holiday attire had been donned for the occasion. The various exercises were conducted by Mr. March and Dr. Bennett, and one or two of the teachers. The following schools were present, there being, in all, 466 pupils.

MALE DEPARTMENT. No. 1, grade 1, Miss Denham; No. 2, grade 2, Miss McFee; No. 3, grade 3, Miss Cameron; No. 4, grade 4, Miss Crawford; No. 5, grade 5, Miss Jordan; No. 6, grade 6, Mrs. B. Parkin; No. 7, grade 7, Miss Oddy; No. 8, grade 8, Miss McAllum; No. 9, Miss M. Wood.

MALE DEPARTMENT. No. 1, grade 1, and 2, Thos. Steinhart; No. 1, grade 3, D. P. Chisholm; No. 1, grade 4, W. P. Dole; No. 2, grade 1, N. C. Simpson; No. 2, grade 3, J. Harper; No. 5, W. Mill.

The exercises throughout the forenoon were varied and interesting and consisted of all the branches taught in the schools. In most of the branches two or three were selected from each school and examined. The exercises were interspersed with recitations and dialogues, which were very much admired. Four young ladies, Ada Hamm, Lottie Ferguson, Helen Young and Fanny Thomas, from Mrs. Parker's school, recited "The Country Cousin," in which they displayed great taste and considerable dramatic talent. They were admired by all, and were warmly applauded.

Mrs. E. Parker's reading class read simultaneously "Mary Queen of Scots," a very difficult piece, in splendid style. The inflection of each voice was correct, and in parts it seemed as if only one voice spoke the words.

At one o'clock the chairman called upon Mr. Rand, who was present, to close with a few remarks. Mr. Rand expressed the pleasure he had in being present this morning, and the interest he had in the exercises. He would not then point out faults which he saw, and which were, no doubt, as apparent to the teachers as to him, but he would speak of the excellencies. He had been much pleased with the dialogue recited by four young ladies and, while some might be inclined to ask the use of such an exhibition, besides the mere vocal culture, he had seen three prominent lessons to be learned from this dialogue. First, the offensive character of highfalutin superficial education; secondly, the discomforts of those who are ignorant and have not the sense to perceive it; and thirdly, the benefits of a good sound education. The great end of education, he claimed, was not to make men clever, and, as our American friends say, smart, and able to make money, and be sharper, but to make perfect men and women, and to unfold and mature the mind. He congratulated those who had made during the past year and said he expected to see greater progress during the next month. Mr. Rand was loudly cheered on taking his seat, and the exercises closed by singing the National Anthem.

The High School pupils will be examined to-morrow.

The Carleton schools will be examined this afternoon, at the Carleton City Hall.

Scholastic Submariner at the Capital. Mr. Rand, says the Frederickian Express, wanted a 8000 school house built at Morrison's, and the Trustees determined that an 8000 edifice would suffice. Mr. Rand wants to buy the Baptist Seminary for $6000, but the City Council ask delay, and have extracted a pledge from the Trustees not to proceed with the Morrison school house, nor take any steps for the purchase of the Seminary building, without first informing the Council.

A disease of rather a peculiar nature has broken out among the Indians at Escason, Cape Breton. There were on Sunday last, when Dr. McIlwain visited there, nine down with it and one died just before the Doctor's arrival. The disease appears to be a sort of influenza, accompanied with typhoid symptoms. The patients, the Doctor states, are utterly destitute of food, and the people of Escason do not care to approach them lest they may contract the disease.
