

LOSSES.

BY FRANCES BROWNE, THE BLIND POSTESS OF DONEGAL.

Upon the white sea-sand There sat a pilgrim band, Telling the losses that their lives had known; While evening waned away From breezy cliff and bay, And the strong tides went out with weary moan.

SCRAP BOOK.

"What can you say of the second law of thought?" Student—"It cannot both be and not be. For example, the door over there must either be shut or open."

Bismarck is baldheaded, but you don't catch any German newspapers saying that Mrs. Bismarck is a high-tempered woman, or making any jokes about baldheads generally.

Cruz Lopez, a former pensive peanut vender of San Francisco, is now the wildest bandit on the Mexican border. He went to the bad because every policeman or millionaire that passed his stand stole a nut with an air of abstraction.

A youngster, while warming his hands over the kitchen fire, was remonstrated with by his father, who said: "Go away from the stove, the weather is not cold."

"What will you have?" asked a waiter of one of the Indiana editors, at the dinner in Philadelphia, as he handed him the bill of fare.

"Say, pop," said John Henry's hopeful, the other day, "wasn't it the price of whales that swallowed Jonah?"

The reason.—Two men were passing a stable which had a rooster on it for a weather vane, when one addressed the other thus: "What's the reason they didn't put a hen up there instead of a rooster?"

A gentleman, well known for his parsimonious habits, having billeted himself on his acquaintance in Edinburgh during some royal visit, was talking to a friend on his return of the great expense of living.

"What would be your notion of absent-mindedness?" asked Rufus Choate of a witness whom he was examining. "Well," said the witness with a strong Yankee accent, "I should say that a man who thought he'd left his watch to him, and took it out'n his pocket to see if he'd got time to go home and get it, was a little absent-minded."

"Cursed, if the damned thing ain't a-going!" was the surprised remark of a sight-seeing Grainger from Maine, who carressed the teeth of a circular in a North End planing mill; and now should you propound to him that first problem for young arithmeticians? "How many fingers have you on your right hand?" He would bite that lonely thumb, and snarl reply, "Nary, stranger!"

A large, fine rooster was feeding on the track just below the Franklin street bridge, Pottstown, just as the up freight was coming, and falling to get off in time was struck by the cow catcher, and a perfect shower of feathers surrounded the engine, and as soon as the train passed he got up and started for home as if nothing had happened, much to the surprise of all who saw it.

Brown came home late the other night, and Mrs. B, reaching out of the bedroom window, said: "So you've been tipping the glass again, have you?" "Glas," said Brown, "(hic) is a funny word; take off the 'g,' and it's you, my dear." "Yes," answered the wife, "and then take off the 'l' and it's you, you wretch," and she slammed down the window with a bounce.

A number of New York sportsmen have had several fox chases in New Jersey recently, and each time the fox escaped, and a number of hounds were lost. Another chase is announced, and to obviate similar mishaps, a fifty-six pound weight will be attached to the fox's hind leg, and the hounds will be tied on the hunters' horses to prevent them getting lost.—Norristown Herald.

A remarkable instance of calculation was recorded at Aylmer, Canada, where a barber named Johnson, for a bet of fifty cents, ran under the cars of a railway train that was passing at a rapid rate of speed. He won the wager, though he lost the heel of one boot by a wheel that came unpleasantly close as he emerged. The man who lost the bet said he had expected to win and get a couple of dollars for attending the inquest.—American Paper.

Some time ago two London thieves put in practice a plan of robbing a jeweller which had been described in a story in a popular periodical—a piece of pure invention. The jeweller was furious (he lost forty thousand dollars, so it was excusable), and wrote to the editor of the magazine, asking him if it was his mission to instruct thieves in new ways of plundering the public. "My dear sir," replied the editor blandly, "if you had taken in my periodical (which I hope in future you will do), you would have been put upon your guard. This comes of neglecting the claims of literature."

McGOWAN'S DENTIFRICE.

To my Patients and the Public: In transferring the entire manufacture of my "DENTIFRICE" to Mr. B. E. McGALE, Chemist, of this city, I may add that I have used the above in my practice for the past twenty-four years, and conscientiously recommend it as a safe, reliable and efficient cleanser of the Teeth, and a preparation well calculated to arrest decay and render the Gums firm and healthy. It is perfectly free from artificial coloring matter, acids, or other substances deleterious to the Teeth or Gums.

W. B. McGOWAN, L.D.S. The above is prepared under my direct supervision with the greatest care and accuracy, and strictly according to the original recipe of Dr. W. B. McGowan, Surgeon Dentist, of this city. B. E. McGALE, Chemist, Sole Proprietor and Manufacturer, 301 St. Joseph Street, Montreal.
