

Concentration of Purpose Not Spasmodic Improvements

NOT occasional, spasmodic change or improvement made the L. C. Smith gun what it is to-day—the gun with no shortcomings—not one.

The concentration of the six men for 22 years has done it.

The six Hunter Brothers keenly foresaw and held fast to one vital truth, i.e.: that any little shortcoming—seemingly but a trifle—in the field or blind, will offset all your skill, wipe out all your well laid plans, and spoil a whole trip.

Concentration produced for the L. C. Smith gun a firing pin of vanadium steel—an unbreakable pin—gas proof.

Concentration produced a rotary clawing type of bolt, which takes up all wear in all directions by the double wedging of its double claws. The limit of breech bolting strength is attained by these claws entering the frame, after passing through the extension rib.

And so on through the list, Concentration of Purpose has produced the gun with

NO SHORTCOMINGS

The Smith gun is "two guns in one," bored to meet combined requirements of field, blind and trap. Have your dealer show you the new Smith 20 gauge—20 gauge from butt to muzzle. Write to-day for catalog, showing grades from $35 net to $1,500 list in Canada.
