Lapinette

the flower of the student world

© BY DON KEENE, B. ARCH.

Whenever anyone mentions middle english to Lappy, she becomes nauseous no matter what our story she says to the contrary.

Lapinette indulges in a pre-season surfing session, which of course demonstrates her determination to plan ahead in spite of details like the fact that there is no surf within a few hundred miles.

Lapinette demonstrates "in" gars for carrot ranching, emulating the appearance of a great carrot baron.

Lapinette thinks about a pile of 7,500,000 carrots.

there is one terrible disadvantage to attending university.

Summer vacation.

gone, the frolic of middle english 101.

vanished, the joys of elementary thermodynamics 203 with prerequisite calculus 105 parts A and B.

instead, the agony of labour involved in learning how to tell which end of a surf is up and such.

but Lapinette isn't worried.

coolness is an attribute of hip students, whose attributes our rabbit amigo always tries to emulate, thus to prove her hipposity.

you see, Lappy has decided on a summer job of great and growing interest: carrot plucker on a carrot ranch.

for every ten carrots she plucks, she can keep one.

for every ten carrots she gets to keep, she will eat nine and sell one.

for every hundred she sells, she can realize eighty-nine cents, which is 7/450th of her fall tuition.

So, four and a half million carrots ought to wrap it up nicely.

it might wrap rab up too, of course. but then, of course, so might middle english 101.

Yvonne Snell and Anne Harrison join Crossroads Africa

Miss Yvonne Snell, a third year physical education student, and Miss C. Anne Harrison, a second year physical education student, will participate in Operation Crossroads Africa this summer. Miss Snell, will likely work with a team of Africans and North Americans on a rural project. Miss Harrison is a graduate nurse and may form part of a medical team, although final assignments have not been given.

Seventy-five Canadian students and young professionals are chosen to participate each year. Since 1960, over 250 Canadians have participated and Crossroads teams have operated in 36 African countries. The Canadians join with American Crossroaders and Africans in a combined effort to foster mutual respect and understanding while working on something constructive. The total group will be divided into 20 teams and these will be directed to as many different African places.

The teams typically do construction work on a rural project, organize activities and discuss problems with their African student counterparts. The Crossroads projects in Africa are undertaken only at the request of the local African authorities who, in turn, encourage village support as well as select the African counterparts.

Operation Crossroads is a private voluntary organization financed in part by many Canadian organizations and individuals. In all cases, Crossroaders are responsible for financing part of the cost.

Famed musicians play at Memorial Hall

Mischa Mischakolt, a musician in constant demand for solo and recital appearances throughout the world is making a two-day visit to UNB tonight he appears in Memorial Hall at 8:30.

He is considered one of the greatest violin-virtuosos of all time. He has been concert master of some of the world's greatest orchestras during their greatest glory - the New York Philharmonic, the Moscow Philharmonic, the Bolshoi Theatre Orchestra and the Philadelphia Philharmonic. For fifteen years he was concert master of NBC's symphony orchestra.

Mischakolt, a collector of some of the finest instruments in the world, will be accompanied by Arlene Pach in the recital.

His performance is sponsored by the creative arts committee of UNB.

ALICIA de LARROCHA

Alicia de Larrocha will perform in concert at Memorial Hall Tuesday night at 8:15.

The concert will replace the cancelled performance of Don Juan in Hell by the National Shakespeare players

Columbia Artists magazine calls Miss de Larrocha "the greatest pianist from Spain in our generation."

She is acknowledged to be an unequalled interpreter of Spanish music. Born in Barcelona, she was a student of Frank Marshall, the eminent piano pedagogue.

Miss de Larrocha gave her first concert at the age of five. She is now a director of the Marshall Academy of Barcelona, which was founded by her former teacher.

"In a thousand keyboard challenges, she, like a genie, achieved wonders. Miss de Larrocha is formidable - an artist bursting with the traditions of her country and able to bring them to life," said the New York Post.

Two UNB students win scholarships

Two students at the University of New Brunswick have been awarded Khaki University and YMCA scholarships.

They are: William Brian Sonier of Nashwaaksis, a first year arts student, and John Anderson Thomson of Pen-ticton, British Columbia, a second year forest engineering student.

The Khaki University and YMCA scholarships (undergraduate) are awarded annually, one to a member of the freshman class and one to a member of the sophomore class in any course under the following conditions and in order named: (1) sons and daughters of those who served in the armed forces during the War of 1914-18; (2) sons and daughters of those who served in the armed forces during the War of 1938-45.

The scholarships are awarded on consideration of financial need and success in the work of the first term.
