

Q- Now, would you look at the accused? Who is he?

A- Well, I didn't know his name then but I have found out since that it is Sgt. Ion, sir.

Q- Go on now.

A- I asked the sergeant what business he had in the corridor at that time of night.

Q- Did you know who this sergeant was?

A- I recognized his features, sir.

Q- Who was he?

A- Sgt. Ion now, sir.

Q- The accused?

A- Yes, sir.

Q- Yes?

A- He answered that he wanted to see an officer. As he turned around away from me he struck me in the eye, sir.

Q- What do you mean he struck you?

A- Well, he hit me, sir.

Q- How?

A- With his fist, sir.

Q- What happened then?

A- Well, then, one of the other batmen picked me up and put me into bed. I was kind of dizzy so L/Cpl. Carter and the officer of the guard came and took me up to the Sergeants' Quarters. I was taken to a room there. There were quite a number of fellows in the room. I immediately identified the sergeant as the man who had struck me.

Q- Who did you identify?

A- Sgt. Ion, sir.

Q- Who is he?

A- The sergeant that was in the corridor that evening.
