

PREFACE.

IN my attempt to write this little book you will please pardon me if you find that it contains some mistakes. You must observe that it is not the product of some well-known, popular author, but that of one who is an observer, and notices what is going on in the world to-day; and when we consider that life is really made up of mistakes we should be charitable in our views toward each other. As I write I would ask to be guided by God's Holy Spirit that I may say something that may help somebody to better their condition.
