of the opening of upper lake naviga-tion there has a stimulating effect upon prices. Other influences in out-side markets seconded the local conside markets acconded the local conditions, causing a general advance in values, which more than offset the steady decline of the previous fortnight. From the prices quoted elsewhere it will be seen that there was an advance of 1-2c. over last report for wheat, it. for oats, and 4 1-2c. for barley, in car lots.

The horse market continues active. Ontario breeders would do well to look into this. There is also a lively demand for stockers, but our farmers are not likely to sell these as freely as in previous years.

The enormous volume of immigra.

The enormous volume of immigration now arriving in the province is alone sufficient to give a tone to trade. Seeding has begun, and every-body is busy except the freight handlers of the C.P.R. who are on strike.

Maritime Markets

Halifax, N.S., April 10th, 1903. The approach of Easter has livened up the produce market, which has been very inactive for the last month. The finest beef displayed by local butchers, this year, is of native beef from Nova Scotia producers, although some very fine beef has been brought in from Ontario. Holders of Nova Scotia beef cattle lately have been very firm in their ideas, with the result that butchers, both at Halifax and St. John, have arranged to have a car load of Ontario beef shipped to cach city weekly.

and St. John, have arranged to have a car load of Ontario beer shipped to each city weekly. Mutton is very scarce and dealers are paying ice. a pound for this article by the carcass. Spring lambs are now obtainable and are fairly high, at $5 to $6 each, according to quality and size. Veal is becoming plentifel, at $5 to $6 each, according to quality and size. Veal is becoming plentifel, at $5 to $6 -2c. per lb. Pork is a little easier than a fortnight ago, the breaking up of the P. E. Island ice blockade enabling dea,ers to supply their wants at from $8 to $1 -2c. Poultry continues very scarce and good fresh stock commands from 15 to 18c. per lb. Fresh-killed turkeys at present are worth about zoc., and refrigerator is worth 15c.

The chief feature, in the last fortnight, has been the decline in eggs. The market is overloaded, prices are soord demand, the control of the searcity of meats may force prices up again to a reasonable figure. The cheef of the properties are now at the highest point on record, and local supplies will not be available for another six weeks.

Dealers are finding great difficulty in supplying their wants for fresh creamery butter. Western rolls are in
