The Tragic Drama in India. The intelligence from India this week is of mixed character—the extension of the mutiny to Bombay; a series of brilliant victories by General Havelock over the miscreant, Nena importance, make up the news by the Bombay and Calcutta mails, which had previously arrived in driblets through the medium of the tele-

The accounts are a good deal confused, but we gather from them that having advanced several miles from Cawnpore towards Incknow, the British Commander came in contest with a force some say of 10,000, others 13.men, under Nena Sahib. Three engagements followed, in which, with only 1300 Europeans and 600 or 700 Sikhs, the enemy was de-feated in the most masterly manner. Twentyone of the rebel guns were captured. But notwithstanding this victory, General Havelock was compelled to fall back upon Cawnpore, in consequence of the alarming spread of cholera amongst his troops. A flank movement, by which the last and crowning victory was achieved, is highly praised by the military men who write from the camp. Arrived at Cawnpore, a sight of horror more appalling than any atrocity which has yet marked these Indian butcheries tl cuita Journal :--

But really we cannot describe the brutalities that have been committed; they pass the boundaries of human belief, and to dwell upon them shakes reason upon its throne. he has been guilty, should have skulked out of a Magazine for youth. existence in this pitiful manner is deplorable, for as cruelty is ever the concomitant of cowardice, his apprehension ane execution would be some slight atonement to outraged humanity. Hardly inferior in interest to the facts we have mentioned were the mutinies at Dinapore, on the 14th of July. Here three native regiments, were desired to surrender their percussion caps, and some time was foolishly given to them to deegraph wires as they passed, and assumed an attitude of defiance. They were followed by Gen. Lloyd, and an engagement took place at the passage of the Stone, where, it is said, the standing, the mutineers crossed the river, and reached Arrah, about 25 miles west of Dinapore, There was no adequate force at Arrah to repel them, and the lives of seventy-five of the English residents were taken. Two steamers, each having on board 160 British soldiers, were dispatched from Dinapore to Arrah; but one of the steamers unfortunately grounded, and the troops in the other incautiously landed, were surrounded at night by the rebels, and lost 147 men and 9 officers, within 4 of the whole number. Another massacre of officers occurred at Segowlie. These occurrences will interrupt the ommunication between the capital of Bengal and the disturbed districts by the high road, but the Ganges is still open to us, and the transport of the troops by that route can be made with safety. Lord Elgin had arrived at Calcutta with 400 Marines and a company of the Queen's 5th, and while the steamer which conveyed the homeward mails was coming down two other steamers with transports on board were going up. It may be mentioned incidentally that the transports of Control I load at Diagram I blundering conduct of General Lloyd at Dina-

July. The place still held out, and three sorties had occurred, in which the insurgents were repelled with great slaughter. The desperate nature of the fighting may be inferred from the fact that we lost 500 in killed and wounded. Brigadier Nicholson was expected at Delhi in a fortnight from the Punjab, with reinforcements.

We incline to the belief that the worst is over. As matters stand, we have been able to hold our own, and as every week will bring additional reinforcements, so every week will render more desperate the position of the enemy. So far, no leader, worthy of the name, has appeared to guide the traitorous troops, who are little better than a band of marauders, each man fighting for himself, and caring only for his own share of the plunder. Delhi will remain the point to which all the disaffected spirits will converge, and as Sir Colin Campbell has arrived Calcutta, he would immediately proceed to that scene of his future labours. Sir Colin, it must be remembered, is far advanced in life, and hith. erto the weather and the climate have proved to much for the three commanding officers who have preceded him; but he is a hardy veteran and while life lasts will do all that energy and talent can command to insure success. In the Crimea his labours were prodigious, cholera,—Comm.

BALM OF ORANGE FLOWERS.

BALM OF ORANGE FLOW ERSS.

THE largest revenues of the estates on the borders of the Mediterranean are those derived from the sale of the Orange flowers. The house of Faguer, pertuner of 50,000 francs for a siapply of Orange Blossoms. This sucormous consumption by a single perfumer is not surprising when it is known that the BALM OF ORANGE FLOWERS gives a delicate perfume to the Breath, thoroughly cleanses the Testh, eridicates Tan, Pimples and Freekles, and imparts a roay bloom to the Complexion, makes a soft and beautiful lather for shaving, removes Dandraff, and gives a fine gloss to the Hair. A bottle costs only 50 cents.

Yet blessing on your frosty pow,
John Anderson my Jon.

Thus sung good Mrs. Anderson, some hundred years ago.
Nor dreamed she aught could e'er bring back Those raven locks to Jo—
But ladies of our day declare
No Jo shall e'er go gray,
Since Mason's Alpine Eatin is sure
To drive Gray Hairs away.

Behnsen's Marvellous Herb TEA.

ON account of the absence of all mineral substances, may safely be taken by persons of the most delicate constitutions, at the same time being perfectly sure to reach the root of the disease. It wil, be found wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints—

Asthma, Jaundice, Billious Disorders, Loss of Appetite, Dissiness, Costiveness, Flautency, Piles, Headache, Heartburn, Indigestien, Scrofula

Is a certain cure for all d seases of the skin, such as—Erysipslas, Ringworm, Rashes, Pimples, Eruptions, Seald Heads.

There are more than one hundred different kinds of diseases of the skin, which, by taking a packet of "Behmen's Herb Tga," may be removed, making a fine, firm and healthy skin, and imparting to the complexion a beautiful clearness and "ransparancy.

This Tea is also a great purifier of the blood, correcting eruptive tendencies syd seroful complaints, and has been successfully app'ed to the cure of the greater number of bodity diseases. To obtain these beneficial results it is necessary to take regularly for a short time, in the morning on rising, and in the evening before retiring to rest, a cupful of the Tea prepared according to the directions accompanying every package.

The Tea is sold in packets, one shilling, sig., each.

German has ever been famous for its physicians, its chemists and its philosophers. Amongst its chemists of the practical kind is the great Liebig, and next to him Behnsen. To the former we owe an insight into the mature and components of cur various loods—to the latter some of the most invaluable knowledge of the power of herbs upon the healthful condition of the human frame. To the former the farmer applies for a hint of how to make his land the most productive—to the latter, the great of the productive of the physical condition of the make his land the most productive—to the latter, the great keepers and conservators of the physical condition of the people refer for the lailsman of its renewed vitality, and a protection "from those ills which flesh is helr to." In giving to the world the "Marvellous Herb Tea," which has already reached our shores, Behnsen has consulted an universal want. The applications personally made to this illustrious chemist, in reference to his Medicinal Tea, were gradually involving him into correspondence, to the detriment of his other avocations, but by consenting to throw open the secret of its ingredients, he gets rid of a great responsibility.—London Paper.

Tasteless Vermifuge.

Is particularly designed for children, being free from the taste of medicine, but it is equally efficacious for adults. Nine-tenths at least of our infant population are either sfilicted with Reund, Tape or Thread Worms, the theory of the common. That worms lay the foundation, of many fatal diseases is well known to be a foundation; of many fatal diseases is well known to be a sad and great fact; unsuspected they sap the vitals and not unfrequently consumption closes the scene. It becomes therefore a matter of the first importance to eradicate them at once and forever from the system.

No longer need powerful nauseous Oils or Minerals be used, for a Vegetable Tasteless Remedy has been discovered, which is at once, speedy and effectual in its operation, and is acceptable to the palate of the most delicate children. It strengthens the various organs, gives tone to the frame, and acts as a preventitive as well as oure. In all families it should be kept as a household remedy. There is an article known as Dn. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, or LIVER REMEDY, which can be relied on as certain to cure liver complaint in any of its forms, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, and numerous other complaints, besides which, it is one of the greatest preparations or cures for consumption, taken in early stages, that is now known.

We take it for granted, as experiment has proven, that diseases of the lungs are not generally the first cause of consumption, but a debilitated system caused by the improper action of the liver, reduces the power of the lungs to resist or throw off diseases caused by cold and irritation, leaving the lungs at the mercy of one disease, because, the liver has incapacitated them from purforming their proper action of throwing off diseased matter caused by cold, thus to prevent consumption, cure the liver, and keep the system strong enough to throw of slight diseases of the lungs.
