"Such is at present the fast and grad reply under to the Annexationists by the pour friends of good passioth, and the Ministry, which the latter personify; assumptly, such a ory myean world of argament, and paints correctly the instincts of the belly gods. 'Let these who are not satisfied by off, they ery alond, and there will remain enough of dupes to garge our veracity, they think to themselves. All right, Measieurs the saints, your wishes will be accomplished. According to the information which are have received from vertices parts of the country, it appears certain that more than one hundred thousand Canadisses are preparing to abandon their house to seek a hinder fate in the powerful and happy Republic. Yes, one bussing thousand Canadisses are preparing to abandon their house to seek a hinder fate in the powerful and happy Republic. population—the youth, the vigor, the hopes of the columner, fly the said where they were born, fly the samples with suck their blood, fly the friends of good principles, gloom buzzers of liberty, who may soon bear in the solited above statement, which, even if too highly colored, allows margin shough for regret. Within the last few years, whether it be that the people have become restive under the Feudal Tenure, or disheartened at the apparently interminable struggle to rid the Colony of the selfish clique of selfstyled Liberals who plander the country, it is an admitted fact, that our population is leaving the land, and, contrary to all analogies, if is diminishing, instead of increasing; an inflax of pauper immigrants limpoverishes our resources, and endangers the security of life and property. The best and safest guardians of the laws are the agriculturalists, when their labors remanerate them, and their homesteads are secured to their families. The policy of the Americans is, in this respec conspicuously Conservative; ours has hitherto been one of repression, an expensive and preca-rious road for an Administration to pursue.

Editorial Skirmishing at Quebec.

The Journal de Quebec, when it paraded the forty-two members obedient to Mr. Lafontaine's will before the Upper Cunada Press, to intimidat the "Clear Grits" and recall them to the ranks which they had deserted, omitted to inform the latter that the camp in Lower Canada disclosed symptoms of an insubordinate spirit, and that, whether the malcontents were numerous or not, they had provided themselves with a Press, wherewith they fomented an unruly spirit and ment Hambugs. La Sentinelle du Peuple, the organ of the Democratic French Canadians in Quebec notices the Journal de Quebec in the following terms :--

"Readeth, would got like to know how our paper has been received by the very samily and immaculate Editors in-Chief of the Journal—that original personage, who hately announced, in the most serious strain, "has he had a mission from God to publish a peper—the four dollars a year, not justicing postage, but in monomariac, who, though less amusing than the Prophet Smith, the Merican of the Mormons, like him, thinks of the good things of this world," proportions, and relieve the Province from the prolonged fraud which he and his i perpetrated, by playing the game of nationality in Lower Canada, and in Upper Canada apeing the ardent and enthusiastic Reformers. To him the Young Canada party in the French ranks are indebted for the assailable position which they occupy. His ery of nationality is answered by the defiance of the British, and prejudices are invoked against a young and promising party, without whose aid our efforts to promote the prosperity of the country may be retarded. As a gene rule, we find less entitusiasm and less national feeling in the ranks of those who, born in the parent land, look forward to return thither, than amongst their descendants; the rising generation are, with pastial exceptions, decided advocates o Independence, many of them desire Annexation The young French party are about the sincerest friends of Progress, and, without their instrumen tality, it is vain attempting to reach the dense masses of simple-minded habitants, or allay the distrust and suspicion with which they would receive our overtures.

THE A VINDICTIVE HUMBUG. "—A short time ago Mr. J. G. Mackenzie, one of the oldest and most papered merchants of this city, was appointed Consul General for the Portugue Governoven by ine cases, overnor General has recommended. Her Majesty withdraw the approval, simply because Mr. lackennie, in the screens of his right as a free-Mackennie, in the exercise of his right as a free-born Englishman, thought proper to declare his opinion that the Separation of Canada from Great Britain would be advantageous to Provincial in-terests. If this Elgin is permitted to depart from Canada without a cost of tar and feathers, it will argue much for the patience and philosophic in-tifference of the people.

The officers, non-commissioned efficers, and privates of the Coldstream Guards, intend holding a grand military jubilee either next month or in August, next, in celebration of the important event of the regiment entering upon its 200th year. It was first raised in 1650, by the celebrated General Monk, (afterwards the Duke of Alberharie,) and is now the oldest regiment in the service, save the 1st foot, or the autional regiment of Scotland.

We believe it has been fully resolved to introduce a new bayonet into the British Army. The weapon, we hear, differs from the one actually in use, inasmuch as it will make the bayonet wound something less deadly, but it will render the instrument highter, and so far assist the vigour of the soldier's thrust.— United Service Gazette.

"In conclusion, lor, atmough the profession connected with this case, our limits will not permit us now to recur to them, we feel that upon the evidence fairly before the Jury, the prisoner ought not to have been convicted of the crime of murder,— More then this we need not say a lettle to mak has been arrived at only after a careful examination of the evidence. Our impressions, upon first hearing the verdict, were decidedly otherwise. We great-ly fear, now, that that verdict was the result of a ty lear, now, that that verdict was the result of a pre-occupied public opinion, which was brought to bear most violently upon the Court, the Counsel, and the Jury, and that while not the slightest repreach can be thrown upon any concerned, the intensity of the public excitement prevented a fair trial.

We regret that the contributions to the Eachibition were very limited. Four shows during the year for a place like Montreal are too many? this is also the busy scanon, and few persons can spare time from their business to patients or take an interest in the Show. If the Exhibition was confined to twice insited of four times a year, we have no doubt it would go off with much greater celat. W. Laun, J. Leslie, H. The trial of William McLean for the murder of Robert McElva, of Clarke, at the Newcastle As sizes, has ended in a conviction. The murders shot his victim through the window of the house, while the latter was siting at his own fireside. The weapon was a common pocket pistol. MacElva died almost instantly. What could have been the motive for the commission of so diabolical an act, from all that is supplied by the eviculation. It appears that the victim and murderer had lived on the most friendly terms, and the character of the latter was spoken of by several witnesses as hitherto unblemished. It did appear that McLean had sometimes taken what, in other states of society, would be deemed unseemly liberties with McElva's wife; but several witnesses testified that such frolicking was no uncommon thing in that neighborhood, and especially with the prisoner. The murderer was a Member and Officer of the Orange Society; of whom both Judge and Queen's Counsel spoke in the highest terms for their exertions in bringing the party to justice. The condemned prisoner is sentenced to be executed on the 29th instant. The Jury did not accompany their verdict with a recommendation to mercy: and the Judge held out not the not accompany their verdict with a recommenda-tion to mercy; and the Judge held out not the slightest hope of a commutation of the sentence. It is, therefore, believed that the sentence will be carried into effect.
