When J. Kenneth Dawson, of Bridge-water died several years ago, he left a will which was a model for others who have a generous portion of this world's goods. This will directed that $20,000 and a lot of land be given to, town for a public hospital, provided another $20,000 was raised for the same purpose. This latter proposition is being laboriously and slowly worked out by the Town Council. Another thousand was left for the beautification of their pretty cemetery. This money has been expended for a handsome fountain which is now being placed in position on the top of a hill in the cemetery. It is a beautiful piece of work and will be called the Dawson Memorial Fountain and will perpetuate the name of the generous donor. The proposition is to publicly turn on the water in this fountain on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock if all is in readiness.

The Canadian Senate, as at present constituted, consists of 38 Conservatives and 39 Liberals, with 10 vacancies. The vacant Senate seats are: One from New Brunswick, 3 in Quebec, 1 in Manitoba and 5 in Ontario. It is understood that several other appointments will be made shortly, so as to assure the Government a majority in the Senate on the Conscription Bill.

Nearly 400 motor vehicles throughout the Province were registered in May, and there will be as many more in June. There have been over 6,000 registered since the Provincial Registration Act came into operation, there having been about 1,300 since September last and it is estimated there are at least 4,000 operating in the Province today.

After praying for forty years for a baby, a New Jersey couple placed an ad in a newspaper and that same night a bouncing boy was left on their doorstep. Prayer is all right if you are not in a hurry, but for quick results, use printer's ink.

While fishing in the Bay of Fundy recently, a motor boat occupied by Walter and Hillyard Barnes, of Digby, became disabled. Mr. Wm. Ellis and son Archie immediately went to their assistance. A heavy sea was running at the time and the town line catching in the propeller, in some way knocked Walter Barnes overboard. Much credit is due Mr. Ellis and son and Walter's brother Hillyard for the skillful manner in which they rescued Walter from drowning.—Monitor.

Bridge-water Bulletin—Mrs. R. G. Sprague has received a letter from her husband at Karlsruhe, Germany, whose steamer the Pontiat, torpedoed in Adriatic Sea. Captain Sprague writes: "The Pontiat was torpedoed at 5.30 p. m., and sank in about thirty minutes. The third officer was drowned getting into the boat, Mr. Still and myself were the last to leave the Pontiat, at that time the water was on deck aft. Was only in the boat a few minutes when the submarine took Mr. Still and me prisoner. We were six days on the submarine and we were landed on the east side of the Adriatic (Cattaro Montenegro), were four days there and seven and a half days on the train getting here. The remainder of the crew left in two life boats and I trust have been picked up." Capt. Sprague goes on to say that he is well and getting along all right, but expects to be moved to another camp. He lost most of his clothes.

stated by Senator Robinson, is "to increase efficiency and energy during the war." When such a law was first urged in England years before the outbreak a House of Commons committee foresaw that it would "facilitate the training of the territorial force, reduce the industrial, commercial and domestic expenditure on artificial light, and benefit the physique, general health and welfare of all classes in the community." The experience of ten countries during the summer months of 1916—the first year of the operation of the plan for all of them—has amply justified that forecast. It has also shown that daylight saving, advocated originally as a peace measure, adds enormously to the resources of a nation at war.

...A CONCRETE ILLUSTRATION...

Vancouver World.—If a savage had broken into your neighbor's house and had killed your neighbor:

And if the brute, crazed with the blood he had shed, attacked your neighbor's wife and daughter committed unmentionable outrages upon them:

And if your neighbor unarmed and unprepared was unable to overcome the savage though he made a most gallant fight:

And if your brother came to the rescue and unarmed and unprepared fought the murderer for a whole day:

And if you had come to his help and together you managed to get the upper hand for a moment:

And the savage then got a renewed access of strength and your brother needed all the help you could possibly give him in order finally to bind the beast that was threatening his life and yours and the lives of everyone else in the world:

cause you had done enough and really And then you proposed to quit brought to be at home looking after the vegetables in the garden:

What would you think of yourself? Yet this is what our anti conscriptionists now propose for Canada.

CHILDREN MURDERED
Mr Will Crooks Describes Havoc In The East End School.

SAW THE BOMB FALL.
Mr. Will Crooks, M. P., in an interview, said that he was within a hundred yards of the place where the bomb was dropped on the Country Council school referred to by Mr. Bonar Law in the House.

He immediately threw himself to the ground, and after the explosion went home to ascertain if his wife was safe, and then did all he could to comfort the hundreds of mothers who flocked to the vicinity of the disaster. A number of bluejackets ably assisted the police in their efforts to alleviate the sufferings of the victims.

Mr. Crooks expressed his astonishment of the schoolroom should have escaped, seeing that the four walls were blown out and the desk and other portions of the furniture blown to atoms.

One poor woman to whom Mr. Crooks spoke stated that her 6-year-old boy had been blown to pieces.

Mr. Crooks, who has only recently recovered from a severe illness, was much upset and shaken by his experiences, and expressed his intention of returning home at once.

The celebrated "Minard's Liniment" had its birth place in Hantsport. Dr. Levi Minard, the inventor, lived at Brooklyn and passed away from earth 33 years ago.
