To the Editor of the QUEENS COUNTY he had put the child in a phosphate bag

Dear Sir: Through the kindness of a friend in Gagetown I received a copy of the first issue of the QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE. I had heard that a paper was to be established; but really was not pre-pared to find it one of such size and genmple recognition from the people of erally thought necessary to the existence of a paper. But here I think is an opportunity for the people of Queens county, such as they never had before, to adquite largely attended. The programme and the surrounding country by rallying consisted of recitations, music, speeches, to the support of a live journal which to the support of a live journal which the evening were $11.85, which go to- can do a great deal to bring to the notice of outsiders the great natural advaninjured New Year's day is slowly recover- in Queens and Sunbury counties possess ing, but is not as yet able to leave the for the operations of the farmer and the tourist.
