common with the majority of the last generation in Trinity, there was very fond of flags, because I have inherited that from my father, and I have always been interested in it. Thus, I recall that fifty years ago the number of flag owners on the wharf was on Sunday, a pretty custom, and surely as a child, to mark the birthday of the week by an act that indicates some cause for thankfulness on our part. Port I have always thought the worthy of being perpetuated, then, during the years of my ministry, I had a home of my own and controlled my own staff, and I ever neglected to observe the number of flag owners on the wharf on Sunday.

Dr. Sinclair has been kept busy since he came; and he had his first call to Summerville last week. Canon Lockyer, who attended his sister's funeral at Greenspond last week, returned to Trinity by the Prospero.

Miss Goodwin, who taught in the Amalgamated School last year, and who gave every satisfaction to the Committee—left by Prospero for her home at New Melbourne, Trinity Bay. She will not return. We wish her well.

Rev. Edmund Hunt has returned to his parish and home at Twillingate. He spent an enjoyable holiday at Trinity, and like all Trinitarians, and others in the same circumstances—he was sorry to leave.

The dedication of the Orlando Morris Memorial Altar, and the Rev. Woodridge Memorial Windows in the Mortuary Chapel, will take place tomorrow (Sunday) morning and afternoon.

A neat and well-proportioned stone has just been placed in St. Paul's cemetery, to mark the resting place of the body of one, who was a chief amongst our highly respected and best beloved citizens—Francis Ash, Master Mariner. Upon the shaft is the name, age, date of death, etc. in raised letters; above is the Masonic emblem and the anchor; and above it

Field, 1881. George S. Field, of Dorset, England, married to Elizabeth Newhook.

Boston, 1798. John Boston, of Devon, England, married to Joan Higden, of English Harbour.

Ricks, 1791. John Ricks, of Hants, England, married to Elizabeth Bailey, of Bonaventure, Trinity Bay.

Brown, 1857. Moses Brown, married to Rachel Mills, of Thorofare, Nov. 19th, 1857. Witnesses: Silas Loder, Joanna Cooper, Aaron Vokky, Rebecca Hodder, Samuel Hale.

Upon the arrival of the Prospero from the north on Saturday last, a red ensign hoisted on the new public wharf was a signal to Capt. Field, that the wharf was ready for him to bring the steamer alongside, for the first time. The captain smiled, approving, and took a more northerly course than usual toward Tavernor's Point. Then with a gradual and graceful curve southerly he headed the steamer towards the wharf, and without a hitch, and without a sound, other than the quiet signals to the engineer and the man at the wheel, she glided along the wharf frontage and was berthed as easily as if she were a ton-and-a-half motor boat. Those who had seen Captain Field dock a steamer many times before, were not at all surprised at this; but this was done under new circumstances, and unconsciously there was a "Well done Captain!" from the crowd of people that had assembled on the wharf to see and to observe it all.

Mr. William Morris, of Trinity, who has been Mr. Bishop's efficient foreman during the wharf construction, has been in charge of the work since Mr. Bishop's temporary call to St. John's; and from Mr. Morris's practical and varied experience at such work in responsible positions in Nova Scotia, his work is well qualified for the work, and highly spoken of by Mr. Bishop.

all is the Cross. These are fitting emblems, appropriately placed; for the captain was an enthusiastic man, and a splendid seaman; but above all he was a soldier of the cross, and one of the finest specimens of many Christianity that I have seen our privilege to know. May he rest in peace.

Mr. Michael Ryan, of Catalina, spent the week-end with his brother, Mr. E. Ryan, at Trinity. Glad to see him.

Mrs. Sexton, widow of the late William Sexton, has been quite ill. Her daughter, Mrs. Gibb, of Bonavista, came to look after her, and she is now better.

The fine tern schooner 'Union Jack,' Capt. Lahey, of Trinity, came in on Saturday on her way farther north.

The C.H.E. examinations were held in the Parish Hall on Monday and Tuesday following. This reminds me of a story that I was told a few years ago. In a C.H.E. paper on natural history, the children were asked to "describe a cat." One child wrote: "A cat is about five feet long, two feet wide, it has four horns, and two shoes. Those of us who are familiar with the catamaran, and its common abbreviated name, know what kind of a cat the child had in her mind at the time; but, I am sure, we would all like to know what the examiner in England thought of our Newfoundland cats, and how many marks (of land cats, and now many marks (of the child for the description.

Mrs. Joanna Blandford, who died in Port Blandford last week, was in her younger days well known in Trinity as Joanna Lockyer. She was the eldest child of George and Mary Lockyer. She was born in 1848. In 1870 she married Mr. Darius Blandford, of Greenspond, where she lived for several years. Then, when the Reid and Co. decided to make that part of Bonavista Bay—now known as Port Blandford—its terminus for the Bonavista Bay steamer, Captain Darius Blandford built a fine house there, and the family went there to live. Capt. Blandford died there a few years ago, and his body and that of his wife now lie side by side in the Church of England Cemetery at Greenspond. Their four children are living in different places: Samuel is in Winnipeg, Canada; Frances is in St. John's, Darius is in Greenspond, and Herbert is in Port Blandford. to George and Mary Lockyer, in Trinity, Canon Lockyer is the only one living today, and he celebrated his 83rd birthday on Sunday last. "Time, like an ever-rolling stream, bears all its sons away."

Captain have "landed" all along the shore in their usual abundance, and the men are bringing them in for fertilizing purposes. An increasing number of our people believe that caplin as a fertilizer are not worth the handling, and they have given up using them. With the caplin the flies come, and they constitute our greatest summer nuisance.

Capt. Barbour is adding improvements to his residence.

Trinity will soon be at its best. All who have been away during the winter or spring should now come home; and strangers who are planning a summer holiday should follow suit.

Some of our men are planning to spend the long evenings of early July in the old church-yard, to put some of the old stones upright, and to do any other little thing that will tend to improve the appearance of this sacred spot. Work in this direction has already begun. Any man with a pick, shovel, or crow-bar will be welcome, and will be sure of a job.

Mr. Gil. Christian spent Sunday in Bonavista, and came back to Trinity on Monday.

Mr. Somerton has the painter working on his house, and when he has finished his work, the house will not only be the better for it, but it will add another improvement to the town. Keep it up.

Dr. Fitzgerald, of Trinity East, has ordered a motor car for his personal use. After a while, no doubt he will wonder how he ever managed to do his work without one. We wish him many pleasant drives. —W.J.L.

Doubles the Cost.

The Women of Newfoundland, whatever their class, might do well to consider this fact: A ready-made garment that can be bought by your sisters in London or New York for twenty-five dollars, will cost you in Newfoundland not less than forty-eight dollars, and the bulk of the difference of twenty-three dollars, goes to the Squire-Cooker Administration in the form of duty, surtax, super-tax and sales tax. Will you submit to such legalized robbery? Customs taxation must be reduced by capable men.

NOTES.

The services at Gower St. on Sunday will be of a special interesting character, as it will be, probably, the last occasion, on which the Rev. Dr. Bond, who is the speaker at the Memorial Service in the morning, and the Rev. D. B. Hemmison, B.A., both former pastors of the Church, will preach. During the month both ministers leave to take charge of circuits in the Nova Scotia Conference, Dr. Bond at Halifax and Mr. Hemmison at Wolfville. The Methodist War Veterans and Gower St. Troop of Boy Scouts will attend the Memorial Service in the morning. On account of the special service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be deferred to the following Sunday. Minister's Liaison Believes Nourish

Welcome Back.

Mr. "Coke" Cahill, the plucky little backstop of the Lions and the idol of the fans, returned by the Roanoke Thursday, so that those worried worries will now no doubt disappear from the visages of the champs. We note that "Coke" was interviewed a few days ago re baseball, and the following appears in a recent issue of the Halifax Herald:

BASEBALL IS BOOMING IN THE OLD COLONY.

Baseball is prospering in Newfoundland, according to William "Coke" Cahill, the local athlete, who is spending his vacation in Halifax. He says that big crowds attend the games and that the fans are greatly enthused over the game. He finds the Newfoundland sports the finest in the land and says that they are always ready to go the limit to promote sporting events. The senior league is composed of four teams, viz., Cuba, Red Lions, H.I.S. Church of England, the Red Lions being the champions of last season's league. The 1921 league is scheduled to open June 22 with a double header on the bill. Fred Cheeman, the umpire-in-chief, is one of the prime factors in the success of baseball in Newfoundland and with John B. Orr, president of the Newfoundland Baseball Association, is making great progress with the great outdoor pastime. In St. John's and vicinity, Umpire Cheeman, says Cahill, is a regular "ump" and has done much to make the players abide by the rules. There are a number of former Nova Scotians playing in the league. Robertson, who pitched for Royal Bank in the Halifax Commercial League two years ago and Demers, also a Commercial Leaguer, are going strong in the St. John's City League. Cahill expects to leave Halifax in time to play his first League game June 22.

Ladies' Blouses in White Lawn, Colored Saloon, Cashmere, Poplin, Crepe de Chine, Georgette Crepe, and Silk, all marked down at and below cost. Don't miss them at BOW-RINGS.—June 3, 1921.
