MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR GARGET IN COWS.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The Board of Governors of the St. John's General Hospital beg to draw the attention of the General Public to the following regulations respecting the admission of patients who desire to enter the Institution for treatment.

Under the General Hospital Act (George V., Chap. XIX.) and with the approval of the Governor in Council, the Board of Governors have fixed and prescribed the following scale of fees to be levied from and paid by all persons who occupy beds or undergo treatment at the Hospital.

SCALE OF FEES.

EVERY PERSON receiving treatment in the General Hospital shall pay fees according to the following scale:

Persons admitted to the public wards, $1.00 per day.
Persons occupying private rooms, $10.00 per week, in addition to the daily fee of $1.00.

Every applicant for admission to the Hospital must bring with him or her, or forward to the Superintendent of the Hospital, certificate signed by a duly registered physician that such patient is a proper subject for Hospital treatment.

Under the provisions of the General Hospital Act ALL PATIENTS WHO ARE UNABLE TO PAY FEES shall bring with them a certificate of their inability to pay, which shall be signed by the resident Relieving Officer, or, where there is no such officer, by a Justice of the Peace, a Clergyman, or other responsible persons. The fees of such patients thereupon become payable by the COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC CHARITY.

Paying-Patients, on their admission to the Hospital, must deposit with the Secretary of the Board of Governors not less than two weeks' fees, and their obligations to the Institution must be discharged before they leave the Hospital.

Non-paying patients are warned not to apply for admission until they have secured the required certificate of their inability to pay the Hospital fees.

Physicians are respectfully requested to advise patients certified by them for admission to the Hospital of their obligations to the Institution with regard to the provision of the necessary funds, or certificate as to inability to pay fees.

By order of the Board of Governors.

GEORGE SHEA,
Chairman.

W. H. RENNIE,
Secretary.

THE HECLA PIPELESS FURNACE.

Thousands of these heating systems have been installed, are giving every satisfaction, and you are safe in buying a Pipeless Furnace—absolutely safe—if it is a "Hecla." For those who live in districts where wood is still the fuel ordinarily used we recommend the "Hilborn" Pipeless Furnace. It has a regular wood fire box, takes sticks from 2 to 4 1/2 feet long and there is no trouble in keeping a fire all night in the "Hilborn."

The same guarantee that applies to our other Furnaces applies to this. It must do the work we say it will, or we will take it out and refund your money. Write for particulars.

OLD SCOTCH DIVINES.

Rev. Mr. Shirra, of Kirkcaldy, distinguished for his homely and remarkable sayings, both in the pulpit and abroad, was greatly given to personal reproach in the course of divine service, and had a happy knack of sometimes killing two birds with one stone. One day, observing a young girl with a large and rather gaudy new hat, with which she herself seemed immediately pleased and also noticing or suspecting that his wife was indulging in a quiet nap, he paused in the middle of his sermon and said: "Look on y' ye there if my wife be asleep, for I canna see her for this fine fairsalder on Jenny Bain's new hat."

One day a weaver entered Shirra's Kirk dressed in the new uniform then procured for the Volunteers, just raised. He kept walking about for a time as if looking for a seat, but really to show off his flax, when he perceived he was attracting the attention of some of the less grave members of the congregation. He came to his place, however, rather quickly on Shirra quietly remarking, "Just sit down there, my man, and we'll see your new breeks when the Kirk skalds."

This same Rev. Mr. Shirra was addicted to parenthetical remarks when reading the scriptures, and one day, when reading from the 116th Psalm, "I said in my haste, all men are liars," he quietly remarked, "Indeed, David, gin ye had lived in this parish ye might have said it at your leisure."

The Rev. Mr. Scott, of the Cowgate Edinburgh, was a man of some popularity, but was seldom on good terms with his congregation. One day, as he was preaching on Job, he said: "My brethren, Job, in the first place was a fairly tried man. Job in the second place was an uncommonly patient man. Job in the third place never preached in the Cowgate. Fourthly, and lastly, if Job had preached here, gude help his patience."

The Rev. James Oliphant, of Dumfries, was especially quaint in the pulpit. In reading the scriptures, his habit was to make parenthetical comments in undertones. On this account the seats in nearest proximity to the pulpit were always best filled. Reading, one day, the passage which dealt with the possessed swine running into the deep and being there choked, he was heard to mutter, "Oh, that the devil had been choickit too." Again, in the passage as to Peter exclaiming, "We have built our house upon a rock," he said, "We have built our house upon a rock, and his patent desire to live at peace with all men. As a husband and father he excelled in that simple goodness, which, when suddenly missed, leaves a great blank in the hearts that will know it no more forever. About two years ago he moved to Grand Falls to spend the evening of his days with his son. During his short residence there he continued to make many friends, who, beneath the quiet exterior, recognized the real worth of the man. These were untiring in their efforts to help his dear ones to battle the illness that a few weeks ago laid him low. But it was the final summons, and despite the loving care that would fain keep him a little longer, the gentle spirit winged its flight; happy and contented in dying as in living, to do the will of the Master whom he served. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Methodist cemetery at Grand Falls. Beside his widow there are left to mourn two daughters, viz: Mrs. Sydney Rowell, and Miss Alice Butler, of Messrs. Ayre & Sons, both of St. John's; two sons, Messrs. Herbert and Kenneth of Grand Falls, to all of whom much sympathy is extended in their shadowed hours.

"I hear a clear voice calling, calling clear: 'To rest! To rest!' And I am glad to go, For the sweet oil is low, And rest is best!" —COM.

Speaking of the old-fashioned "rousing sermons" with which some ministers used to delight and terrify their hearers, Mr. Inglis, in his recent work "Our Ath Folk," relates a conversation that took place between two severe old covenanters after hearing a sermon of this type. "What do you think o' that sermon, Jamie?" said Willie, as they wended their way down the street. "Think o't," said Jamie, "man it was just a gran sermon. I havena heard ane I likit better for many a day. What do you think o' yourself?" "As, man," said Willie, "it was an awfu' sermon, a fearful sermon. It fair gar'd my flesh a' grue. I'm shiverin' yet, an' I'm sure I canna take my dinner."

"What," said Jamie, "a short o' indignation. What do you want? What wad ye hae man? Do you want the man to sit ye down to hell on a buttered plate?"

REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY TO KEEP IT HOLY.

"Wherefore did you go and shoot the hare on the Sabbath day, John?" asked the reverend gentleman once of a parishioner who was before the session for the misdeed in question. "Weel, ye see," replied John, not unphilosophically, "I had a strong dread that the beastie might sit still Monday, see I just dressed his droodrum when I had the chance."

FIFTY MILLIONS FOR RELIEF.

LONDON, Aug. 22. The National Government and the Municipality, between them, have directly found fifty million pounds for relief work, the Minister of Labor told a deputation of Laborites, who reiterated their accusation that the department lacked practical sympathy towards unemployment. This sum is in addition to relief accruing from the operation of unemployment insurance.

NO NEWS OF AVIATORS.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 21. There still was no news of Capt. Norman McMillan and Capt. Mallins, who left here Saturday in an airplane to fly direct across the sea, two hundred miles to Akrah, Burma, in carrying out the round-the-world flight abandoned by Major W. E. Blake on account of illness. It is thought here the plane may have landed at a point on the Burma coast, with which communication is difficult.

In Memoriam.

MR. JOSEPH BUTLER OF GRAND FALLS.

The people of Topsail have learned with much regret of the passing at Grand Falls, on Aug. 8, of an old friend in the person of Mr. Joseph Butler, aged 76 years. Deceased was born at Cupids, in 1846, and was a son of the late Jonathan Butler of that place. For some years he resided at Port de Grave, but all the later years of his life were closely connected with Topsail and Manville, where he made his home, while working with the D.I. & S. Co., of Bell Island. During the 20 years of his employment there, he was a good friend to many a man crossing the perilous waters that stretched between their work and their loved ones, all of whom feel a real sorrow at his passing. Mr. Butler was a Christian gentleman of the old type, noted for his gentleness of speech and action, and his patent desire to live at peace with all men. As a husband and father he excelled in that simple goodness, which, when suddenly missed, leaves a great blank in the hearts that will know it no more forever. About two years ago he moved to Grand Falls to spend the evening of his days with his son. During his short residence there he continued to make many friends, who, beneath the quiet exterior, recognized the real worth of the man. These were untiring in their efforts to help his dear ones to battle the illness that a few weeks ago laid him low. But it was the final summons, and despite the loving care that would fain keep him a little longer, the gentle spirit winged its flight; happy and contented in dying as in living, to do the will of the Master whom he served. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Methodist cemetery at Grand Falls. Beside his widow there are left to mourn two daughters, viz: Mrs. Sydney Rowell, and Miss Alice Butler, of Messrs. The Company's Share of It.

"I've heard it said," remarked the rural traveller to the conductor of the suburban train, "that in spite of what folks say about big combinations and syndicates grindin' down the laborin' man an' swindlin' the poor, the company doesn't always get the best of it."

"No, not always," said the conductor. "But how kin a conductor—well now, not bein' personal, but you, fer instance—how could you get the best of it the company just takin' up tickets of which the company knows how many is issued?"

"You can't get the best of it on tickets," replied the conductor, "but sometimes a passenger boards a train in such a hurry that he hasn't time to purchase a ticket, and we collect his fare in cash. I knew a conductor once, Bill Scruggins was his name, who made considerable out of cash fares, and yet, Bill claimed that he always gave the company his proper proportion."

"How's that?" asked the rural traveller. "Well, Bill had a good route for cash fares—he used to run an accommodation—and when he came near his last station he'd take all the money he had collected and throw it up in the air. Whatever part of it stuck to the bell rope, he gave to the company, the rest was his."

"I expect the wear and tear on that there bell rope didn't amount to a great deal."

"I expect you're right about that; and yet they do say that a ten-dollar note got caught on it one day."

"Then I suppose he turned that into the company?"

"Well, I believe Bill did intend turning in that note, but when he took it down he found it was folded so durned peculiar that it just had to stick to that bell rope if it came anywhere near it, and so he didn't think he'd had a square deal."

"What did he do about it?"

"Had a passenger change the note into silver and threw it up again."—New York Sun.
