Far and NearDUNDAS AND LONDON CLASH HERE
LOCAL TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

The game almost being no football contest today between Dundas and London. The Dundas boys were under the impression that they were to play in London today, and the locals were convinced that it was the other way about.

However, when the London players learned that Dundas had a special train they waived their rights to play at Dundas.

Secretary Spry says that he is not superstitious, but when he was informed this morning that the Hamilton Spectator had made the mistake yesterday of saying that London had defeated the Dundas crowd he smiled and said that he hoped the Spectator published the score 12-3, favor London. The teams have not yet met this season.

With the exception of Dick Whetter, the locals are all in good shape and hope to make a good showing, and win out.

The attendance will be materially hurt by the mix-up in schedule, but there was no help for it without the placing Dundas in a bad light with the railroad.

The contest will take place rain or shine.

VARSITY HAS PROTESTED
OTTAWA COLLEGE GAMEAlleged Incompetent Officials and Glaring Off-Side Interference by Winners.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Varsity has protested the Ottawa College game of yesterday on account of alleged off-side interference and incompetent officials.

The score—13 to 10—just about indicates the play, that is, if indiscriminate and persistent off-side interference be called legitimate play. Time and time again the Varsity players were interfered with, just as they attempted to tackle, by an Ottawa man running ahead of the man with the ball. Throughout the first half nearly every play made by Ottawa, when they had the ball was made with the assistance of the most glaring off-side interference. In several cases two men ran in front of the ball, and one of the Varsity players, while the Ottawa man with the ball ran unmolested. In at least two or three cases, Ottawa players put their arms around a Varsity player, and held him for several seconds to prevent a tackle.

Another favorite play of the Ottawa team was to send a man ahead of the ball when bucking the line. Persistent complaints at the negligence of the referee were made by Captain Murray Kennedy, but they were worse than useless. He paid no attention, and denied that there was any off-side interference.

During the interval at half-time several of the Varsity players and supporters, talked to Referee Nagle and protested at the frequent examples of off-side interference. But they got but scant heed and Nagle loudly declared:

"I say that I did not see any off-side interference play today. The referee refused to call the Ottawa players, and as he was absolutely incompetent, he was deliberately unfair. In fact, if ever, that such a perfect exhibition of the American game, where indiscriminate off-side interference has been seen on a Canadian Rugby football field."

Hume, Cassels, "Moon" Lee, and Murray Kennedy were the ones most persistently interfered with on account of their well-known reputation as tacklers. Each one of these players has several examples to tell of off-side interference. It was by the aid of these tactics that Ottawa made the second touch, as the outside interference plays proved to be great ground-gainers.

SPORTING GOSSIP

BY SOUTHPAW

Dundas or London today at Tecumseh Park? Both teams are confident. A great deal would seem to hinge on the way Hamilton treated the valley crowd on Thanksgiving Day.

The local team was beaten up a little, but nothing to cause any undue alarm. The victors will know what they have been playing at all events.

Hamilton Spectator: "London defeated Argos hands down on Thursday, by a score of 12 to 8."

The Argos and Hamilton Cubs play at Hamilton today. Wonder which way the wind will blow? The two victors of the two losers of Thursday. Sounds funny, doesn't it, to term London a winner? Here, is hoping the title sticks.

Monday evening the merry biff and bang of ten-pins will be heard. Indoor bowling is becoming more popular each year, and this one seems bound to outdo all the rest.

It has been suggested that Manager Trafford, of the Jubilee Rink, match up some of the younger skaters around town for races, while he is awaiting an acceptance to Crispin's challenge to Ontario.

There is all kinds of fun seeing the kiddies go to it, and besides it would help to stimulate interest in the roller game.

At the present time the Y. M. C. A. have the best gathering of athletes in the city, and from all appearances they will get stronger right along. Nobody begrudges them their well-earned honors, though. They worked like Trojans to become good, and they have passed all competitors.

Now what we need is a rival athletic club—not association—which would in time create a friendly spirit of athletic rivalry and keep the game on the move.

The Canadian Athletic Club might give this matter a little thought.

Londoners will be pleased to learn that a London boy by the name of J. Moore, who is at present studying for the ministry at Woodstock College, came in fourth in the big Oxford Marathon of Thanksgiving Day.

This boy has always been a clever athlete, and his exhibition has pleased his London friends immensely.

With fair weather and a big crowd, Dundas and Tigers, the old-time rivals for Rugby supremacy in this district, opened the second round of the Inter-Provincial series today at the Driving Park. Feeling ran high, as the winner of this game was considered to be the likely winner of the championship, and from the start it could be seen that each side had determined to contest every inch of the ground, and those who looked and hoped for a strenuous game were not disappointed. The locals had only one change in their line-up from last week, namely, Millard, the giant wing man, who left today for his new home in the North-west. His place was taken by Norton, a recruit of the present season.

The Tigers lined up very nearly the same as last week, Smith playing center scrumming in place of Pfeiffer.—Hamilton Times.

WHISTERS END SPLENDID TOURNEY

The annual whist tourney of the Tecumseh Whist Club is at an end. The last game was played Thursday, after which speech-making was indulged in by Mr. George Ball, of the Toronto Whist Club; Mr. Beaton, of Toronto; Mr. J. Hall, of Woodstock; Mr. Ledger, of Toronto; Police Magistrate-Ball, of Woodstock; and others.

Each one of the speakers agreed that the tournament just closed was one of the most successful that has ever taken place in Ontario, and the successful future of the club was prophesied.

All of the competitors displayed better form than last year, and the younger members of the club are now showing such rare ability that they kept the veterans going at every stage of the game.

Bert Wilcox and O. W. Smith were in great form. In the fours, they were the only ones who scored a plus in the north and south competition. Their big total helped to win that series.

London players took a large share of the medals and pins.

George Bernard Once More
This Time Shows Up Himself and Raps the Socialists.

London, Oct. 31.—George Bernard Shaw appeared this week in a new role. Addressing an audience in London for the purpose of advancing the socialistic propaganda, he admitted that he was a capitalist and landlord and an owner of bonds in so many companies that he did not know the field of operation of the various interests from which he drew his dividends. At the same time, said he, he hoped that the socialistic aim would soon be realized, when he would be glad to dispose of his property according to its principles.

"My property," he said, "is managed by an agent. Although he does 95 per cent of the work, I only give him 5 per cent of the rentals, according to the custom of the present state of society. I only do 5 per cent of the labor in connection with my property, but, of course, I do it so much better than the agent does his part that I am entitled to almost all the profits."

Mr. Shaw does not think that English socialists are of much account. "Although," said he, "we make a loud howl, there is really only a handful of socialists in England. We are like a stage army—we rush out on one side of the stage and back on the other. Most newspapers in England are attacking socialism now because they don't know any better. For downright ignorance, incapacity to think and stupidity you can't beat the English."

Mr. Shaw then made another rapid change, and said that he was talking as a practical politician, having served six years on the North London borough council. He gave an illustration of the difficulty of getting politicians to embrace socialistic doctrines at this time because of the danger of not being elected or not electing their men to office.

Later he talked as a workman, but he could not illustrate by his own experience his statement that 50 per cent of the population of London is living constantly on the starvation line, in which he classes all persons earning the equivalent of $5 a week or under, and who have to bring up families. He pictured a large idle class with money, "who wouldn't work because, of course, they would keep others out of jobs." In referring to the $500,000,000 spent in the South African war, he said that part of this went to the "generals who were defeated in their efforts to lose battles."

Mr. Shaw downed all comers when the chairman announced that he would answer questions. In response to the question whether socialism would eliminate competition and the incentive for effort, Mr. Shaw said:

"The tendency of modern times has

HYDE GETS A JOB
Former Equitable Man Will Hunt Operative Talent.

New York, Oct. 31.—James Hazen Hyde, fictionist, recalled as "Vivian Grey," has a new job, and his friends predict for him a brilliant future. Jimmy has been out of a job since he lost his position as second assistant sub-deputy chief rubber stamp of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

After a hard campaign for the place against other men out of work, James Hazen Hyde has been appointed chief French press agent for the Metropolitan Opera House of New York. The directors desired to make Jimmy press agent for the whole of Europe and England, but all the people of Europe, except France, and emphatically those who speak English, are so rude, uncouth, uncultured, and utterly barbaric from his standpoint, that James Hazen refused to have anything to do with them.

The only disagreeable thing about this new job that Mr. Hyde must obtain operative talent for those plebeian Americans. Ah, well; why not educate them? Perhaps some day they may understand.

SARNIA WEDDING

Howard Couple Married at Methodist Parsonage—Two Fires.

Sarnia, Nov. 1.—On Thanksgiving Day at high noon, Mr. Charles Parsons was united in marriage to Miss Alice Leatherdale, both of the township of Leathersdale. The bride is a niece of Rev. J. W. Baird, who performed the ceremony in the presence of the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hamill, Ridgetown; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, London; Mrs. J. W. Baird, Elsie, Grace Baird. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons will make their home near Ridgetown.

There passed away on Thursday, Oct. 31, in this town, Mr. Luke Bell, in his 91st year of his age. The funeral takes place from the residence of his son-in-law, H. Ingram, 155 Vidal street, on Saturday, Nov. 2, to Hillside Cemetery, Petrolia.

Yesterday afternoon the firemen had a run to a blaze on Euphemia street, where a barn owned by Mr. Watson, of the P. M. freight office, was badly damaged. The horses and wagons were saved, but a quantity of hay was destroyed. At night they answered a call to Douglas' barber shop, but their services were not needed.
