DRESSED HOGS
STILL DROPPINGNine to Nine-Fifty Per Cwt. On Market Today.

HAY WAS IN B G DEMAND

Big Reduction Expected in Prices of Poultry Before Christmas.

Although the roads are still in wretched condition, there was a little more hay on the morning's market than three or four days ago. The demand is extra and as the demand has not abated the slightest, the price moved up another notch. Good quality hay is in demand with the majority going at that price. A few loads of inferior grade went for $14 per ton, while a load of clover hay brought $12.

Tomorrow ought to see a big hay market if the weather will only give the farmers half a chance.

About seven loads of oats were on the square, and although the demand is extra, the price was not affected. Oats are now quoted at prices ranging from $1 to $1.65 per cwt., with the majority of loads selling around $1.05. The demand for oats is very good at present, and tomorrow should see more than was in today.

Dressed hogs were very much in evidence, the farmers preferring to dispose of them before the price takes a further drop. However, the quantity in the market is not large, and the price is reduced, the figures ranging from $9 to $9.50 per cwt. This is bringing it more in line with the price of live hogs, and further reductions are looked for. The price of live hogs is $10.50 per cwt., and the price of dressed hogs is $9.50 per cwt. The price of live hogs is $10.50 per cwt., and the price of dressed hogs is $9.50 per cwt.
