

MADE OFFER BELIEVING CITY HAD DECIDED TO OPERATE LINE

Frank K. Alfred, of Pere Marquette, Pleased to Learn That He Had Erroneous Impression, as His Desire Is to Lease L. and P. S. Line.

LOSS OF ST. THOMAS CONNECTION HEAVY EXPENDITURE TO HIS ROAD

Construction of Bridge To Cost $100,000 Would Be Necessary if the Railway Was Shut Out From the City's Line.

THE FACTS IN A NUTSHELL.

1. The Pere Marquette sealed tender was submitted on the assumption of the Pere Marquette that the people of London were already committed to the municipal operation of the Port Stanley railroad.
2. The Pere Marquette would insist on a minimum length of lease of running rights before assuming responsibility for the rebuilding or maintenance of the road in whole or part.
3. The Pere Marquette would not agree to contribute towards the rebuilding of the road to be done by the city or some other party, if the cost exceeded what the Pere Marquette itself could rebuild the road for.
4. The offer was made on behalf of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, at present leased by the Pere Marquette Railway, which latter corporation is now in the hands of a receiver in the United States court.
5. The offer was for freight running rights only, with the use of London and St. Thomas terminals only. The Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway has a lake port at Rondeau, where bulk coal is now unloaded, and where ferry connection would enable the Pere Marquette to compete with a municipally operated railway in Ohio, Pennsylvania and lake trade.
6. The Pere Marquette operates east of St. Thomas over the M. C. R. lines, and has at present no means of interconnecting into the M. C. R.'s eastern lines except over the Port Stanley Railway tracks in St. Thomas.
7. Without running rights over the Port Stanley Railroad the Pere Marquette could not continue its Buffalo and eastern traffic without bridging the St. Thomas ravine and purchasing a new right-of-way, at a probable cost of $200,000.
8. If the Port Stanley Railroad were electrified, the Pere Marquette would not operate over it, unless the electrical equipment permitted the operation of steam trains, with complete safety to steam traffic and the lives of Pere Marquette trainmen and construction crews.
9. The city would be required to maintain the right-of-way.
10. The Pere Marquette, on the authority of General Manager Alfred, would prefer to lease the road and operate it as a steam road, as at present.

An offer based on the assumption that the people of London were already committed to the municipal operation of the London and Port Stanley Railway was made Monday at a closed session of the Port Stanley Railway Board on behalf of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway by Frank K. Alfred, general manager of the Pere Marquette, for running rights over the Port Stanley road. It is understood that the offer was made with a tentative agreement between the Pere Marquette and the M. C. R., to the effect that the latter railway should also have running rights over the city's railway, because the present lease of the Michigan Central for running rights from the Pere Marquette does not expire until the end of 1913, necessarily linking the two railways together till the end of the present year.

Operate By Steam.
All Pere Marquette and Michigan Central trains will under any arrangements which may be effected be operated by steam. Mr. Alfred did not make any pretense of authoritatively representing the M. C. R., but intimated merely that an understanding existed between his railroad and the M. C. R.

In view of the fact that the offer made by the Pere Marquette was only a tentative one, made on a mistaken assumption, and hence the offer would be subject to considerable modification, the Pere Marquette Company asked that the exact terms of their offer should not be made public.
Mr. Alfred, personally, was pleased to discover that contrary to the impression he had gathered, the city of London had not yet definitely decided upon the municipal operation of an electric road between London and Port Stanley.

Short Lease Not Wanted.
The length of the lease for which the offer was made was not fixed, but Mr. Alfred pointed out that it would not pay his company or any other company to assume the cost, or a portion of the cost of rebuilding and maintaining the road, for a lease for running rights of a comparatively short duration. In this respect, a 30-year lease for running rights would probably be satisfactory to his company. The annual cash rental offered in the tender would be supplemented by the percentage of the cost of rebuilding the road, which the Pere Marquette was willing to undertake.

The total rental, cash and percentage maintenance, although the exact figures are withheld from publication, would be considerably less than $20,000. The offer emphatically intimated that if the city operated an electric road, it would have to be made entirely safe from the standpoint of the (Continued on Page Eleven.)

CARPET MANUFACTURER MAY LOCATE IN CITY

Industrial Commissioner J. Grant Henderson received a letter this morning from an experienced carpet maker, who is now in Toronto, and who wants to erect a $100,000 plant in this city. In his letter the man points out the many thousands of dollars expended every year on carpets in Canada, and also the fact that the most of the carpet used in this country is brought in from Great Britain and the United States, with a duty of 25 and 35 per cent on it, respectively.

The man has worked in a number of carpet factories in the United States and Great Britain, as superintendent, and is anxious to save citizens take stock in the company.

HUNDREDS SHOCKED WHEN DOG AND HORSE WITH BROKEN LIMBS SUFFER FOR HOURS

Women Run Into Stores When Teamster's Animal Is Dispatched Publicly—Collie Pup Has Leg Severed, Then Two Rigs Run Over It—Animal Ambulance To Be Secured.

The crying need of some apparatus to care for "our dumb animals" when injured was given demonstration Monday afternoon, when a horse with a broken leg and a collie puppy that had been run over by a street car suffered for long periods on Richmond street.

Women, among the hundreds who saw the animals, were horrified by the manner in which, through some misunderstanding, for which no particular official could be held responsible, the poor brutes were left in agony, in one case for two hours, and in the other for nearly an hour.

Suffers Two Hours.
A team of horses driven by a teamster was near Maple street, when one of the horses kicked the other, and broke its leg. Mr. Harry Rananah, the grocer, whose store is near by, says this occurred near 1 o'clock, and the horse was not out of its misery until 3 o'clock.

Women Rushed Into Stores.
"It was an awful thing to do in front of women and children," said Mr. Rananah. "Several ladies rushed into my store, horrified at the sight. The horse could have been taken into a yard and killed. As it was, the poor beast suffered for two hours. And it would have been easy to secure a revolver or a bottle of chloroform. This is a case where the humane Society should be able to act, and where there should be apparatus to attend to the case. It was a revolting sight for women and children, and for men, too, as far as that goes. I will be among the first to subscribe to a fund to secure proper apparatus for the care of similar cases."

The Fate of a Puppy.
The case of the collie puppy was regarded as even more pitiful than that of the horse. The collie was struck by a car near Albert street, and had one of its legs severed. Whining and looking into the faces of those who came along, with the strange appeal of a dog, it seemed to plead for help. Though scores of people saw the animal, none seemed to think it his duty (Continued on Page Eleven.)

MRS. PANKHURST BAILED PROMISES TO BE GOOD

Will Refrain From Inciting Her Followers Until Her Case Is Heard.

[Canadian Press.]
Epsom, England, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, was remanded by the police magistrate here until tomorrow, when she appeared today on the charge of inciting others to place, feloniously and maliciously, explosive substances with intent to damage Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George's house at Walton Heath.

She was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,500 on giving an undertaking to refrain from incitement, and not to attend public meetings while the case is in progress. The only evidence taken today was that in relation to her arrest. She was not asked to plead, but although she in the course of public meetings had taken full responsibility for the action of her followers, she has engaged counsel for her defence.

NEW MEX. RULERS APPEAR SINCERE

Feeling of Washington Towards the Huerta Government Is Now Less Harsh.

SLAYING OF MADERO

United States Authorities Believe It Was Not the Result of a Deliberate Plot.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Feb. 25.—Now that the first shock of the tragic deaths of Madero and Suarez has passed over, officials here are beginning to accept the official version of the affair. Unquestionably they believe great carelessness was exhibited in failing properly to protect the prisoners, but that offence, it is pointed out, is less than a deliberate murder plot.

Ambassador Wilson will be permitted to continue to exercise his own discretion in dealing with the new Government, and some satisfaction is derived from his report that not only is the new Government very friendly toward the United States, but that it has shown a disposition to meet reasonable requests for the protection of foreign interests in Mexico, which were to a large degree ignored by the Madero administration.

Peace Still Distasteful.
Officials do not expect immediate restoration of peace throughout Mexico. It is recalled that the dominant party in that country now practically is a new one, unless, indeed, it can be considered a reincarnation of the old party of Porfirio Diaz. This is a common belief between it and the rest of the revolutionists, who for more than a year have been warring upon the Madero regime. Already President Huerta has been offering terms to the Orozco followers in the north with some degree of success. Indications are that similar negotiations with the Zapatistas in the south have failed, wherefore the decision to begin a most active military campaign against that party.

The threatening dispatch of militia by Governor Coahuila into Mexico is not expected to materialize. The governor himself, it was pointed out here today, would lay himself open to a charge of violation of the national neutrality laws, which provide severe punishment for anyone organizing and forwarding a hostile expedition into the country of a foreign state, with which the United States is at peace. The law recognizes no difference between the governor of a state and any other civilian. It simply maintains the right of the national Government, and especially the legislative branch, as the sole authority competent to make a war, and the sending of an armed force into Mexico would constitute such an act.

The overwhelming nature of the revival of the Diaz influence in Mexico is indicated by an order issued by Provisional President Huerta today, that the portraits of former Gen. Porfirio Diaz be restored to their places in the public buildings from which they were removed by the late Francisco Madero, immediately after his assumption of office. Several large pictures of the old dictator, equestrian and otherwise, are to be replaced immediately in the corridors and halls of the National Palace.

Several of the new cabinet ministers, anticipating the presidential order, had already caused pictures of Porfirio Diaz to be dragged from their hiding places, dusted, and hung on the walls of their various departments.

INSPECTOR EDWARDS ENDORSES FARM SCHEME

Says Its Value in Solution of Farming Problems Is Proven.

Public School Inspector C. B. Edwards thinks the scheme outlined by Trust Officer Weir, for handling children who refuse to attend school, a good one. He claims that it has been tried in larger cities than London and has proven a success.

"Something should be done with children who refuse to go to school," said he, "and I think Mr. Weir's idea of a farm, where they could be placed, is a good one. I am, however, dubious about its being a success in London, for the reason that the city is not large enough."

Worker Amongst Poor of Montreal Tells of Deplorable Conditions.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Feb. 25.—"With wages as low as they are at present, and with the cost of living what it is in Canada, it is impossible for wage-earners to provide for old age," stated Mrs. Rose Henderson to the Commons special committee this morning.

Mrs. Henderson is inspector for the juvenile delinquents court at Montreal. She strongly favored the adoption of an old-age pension plan, and said that under the present economic conditions, the cost of living what it is in Canada, it is impossible for wage-earners to provide for old age. She gave the committee pathetic descriptions of conditions she encountered in homes of the poor of Montreal.

In addition to the regular old-age pension plan, there should be state aid for widowed mothers. In her opinion the Lloyd George pension plan was admirable, and she thought it could be successfully established in Canada. The present system of dealing with distressed aged was terrible. Men who had toiled for the state all their lives, who had raised children for the state, were segregated in institutions and practically deprived of their civil rights.

Louis Giron, prison inspector of Montreal and Mrs. Taft, secretary of the Old Folks' Home at Winnipeg, were heard in favor of the pension plan.

MEXICAN SOLDIERS EXECUTED BY SCORE

Ninety-Five Who Remained Faithful to Madero Stood Against Wall and One by One Were Shot to Death, Refusing to Wear Death Mask.

[Canadian Press.]
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 25.—Ninety-five federal volunteer soldiers were executed last evening at Sause, below Juarez. They composed part of the garrison which revolted yesterday, angered at the killing of ex-President Madero, their former leader.

One at a time, advice received here relate, the soldiers were stood against an adobe wall. Ninety-five times the firing squad aimed and fired. Most of the men are said to have displayed much courage, declining the execution mask.
More than 50 of the garrison escaped before the arrival of a strong detachment of federal regular troops from Chihuahua City. The rebels of a day had cut the Mexican Central Railway, which was repaired a few hours later. Five of the volunteer officers escaped death and will be sent to Juarez.

An English Officer and a Swiss Physician of Mawson's Expedition Are the Victims.

Several of Party Must Spend Another Year Amongst Ice Barrens Near South Pole.

[Canadian Press.]
Sydney, N. Z., Feb. 25.—Two members of the Mawson Antarctic expedition, Lieutenant Ninnis, an Englishman, and Dr. Merz, Swiss, have died.

Dr. Mawson and six of his companions have been left for the winter on Adelie land, a barren tract in the Antarctic, because they were unable to reach the expedition's ship Aurora before she was compelled to leave. This news is received here by wireless from Adelie Land via Macquarie Island.

Professor David, who was a member of Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition which reached within 111 miles of the South Pole in 1909, received the wireless from Adelie Land.

"Dr. Douglas Mawson and several of his men missed the Aurora, which had gone to fetch them under the command of Capt. J. K. Davis. This happened owing to unfortunate circumstances."

"Lieut. B. E. S. Ninnis, of the City of London Regiment of Royal Fusiliers, and Dr. Merz, who was ski champion of Switzerland in 1909, who were members of the expedition, are both dead. All the others are well."

"Dr. Douglas Mawson and six other members of his party probably will winter on Adelie Land. Some very successful sledging expeditions were made during the sojourn of Dr. Mawson and his companions in the Antarctic."

The Last Message.
The last previous message received, here from the Aurora, arrived on Feb. 19, and sailed with all the members of the expedition on board the vessel on the way to pick up the party under Dr. Wilde, who was formerly a member of the Scotia and Shackleton expeditions, and had been left with some companions early in 1912 at the base of Termination Glacier.

It would appear, therefore, that the Douglas Mawson, with some of his companions, must have landed and gone on an expedition from which they were unable to get back in time to rejoin the Aurora before she was compelled to leave on account of ice.

Lieut. Ninnis was the expert of the expedition on the subjects of surveying and sledging. The wireless messages hitherto received from the Aurora do not state the cause of his death or of that of Dr. Merz.

The expedition, headed by Dr. Douglas Mawson, set out from Australia in the latter part of 1911. It consisted of nearly fifty men, most of whom were graduates of the Universities of Australia and New Zealand. It was financed by popular subscription.

Dr. Mawson was not going to the pole, but intended to make a complete geographical and magnetic survey of the Antarctic region between Cape Adelie and Gussburg, a distance of over 2,000 miles. The expedition landed on Adelie Land, which is a barren tract of what has been known as Wilkes Land, and the men there divided into three parties.

From time to time, there have come reports of the success of the explorers in the discovery of new islands, and only recently, after having been out of communication for several months, what purported to be a wireless message was picked up from the Aurora, reporting "All well" on board.

Detained For a Year.
Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 25.—Lord Denham, governor-general of the Commonwealth of Australia, has received a wireless message from Dr. Douglas Mawson, the leader of the Antarctic expedition, in which he says:

"Our sledging season has been very successful. We have opened up a large area of new land both east and west of Commonwealth Bay. We have obtained important new data from numbers of stations in close proximity to the Magnetic Pole."

The dispatch concludes: "It is probable that six of the staff of the expedition as well as myself may be detained for another year in the Antarctic."
