Spending His Clothes off His Back.

From the New York Sun.

You are pale-or is it the moonlight's gleam That gives to your face that sorrowful look? We must wake at last from our summer's dream We have come to the end of our tender book. Love, the poet has written well; He has won our hearts by his poem sweet; And now, at the end, we must say farewell-Ah, but the summer was fair and fleet.

De vou remember the night we met? You wore a rose in your yellow har. Comm my eyes I can see you yet. Just as you stood on the upmost stair. A flutter of white from head to feet, A cluster of buds on your breast. Ah me! But the vision was never half so sweet As it is to-night in my memory.

They are calling you. Must I let you go? Must I say good-bye, and go my way? If we must part, it is better so-Good-by's such a sorrowful word to say? Give me, my darling; one last sweet kiss-So we kiss our dear ones, and see them die, But death holds morparting so and as this; God bless you, and keep you-and so-good by ?

The BEST BLUUD PUNITIEN-There is only one way by which any disease can be cured, and that is by removing the cause-what-ever it may be. The great medical authorities of the day declare that nearly, every disease is caused by deranged kidneys liver. To restore these therefore is the only way by which health can be secured. Here is where WARNER'S SAFE CURE has achieved its great eputation. It acts directly upon the kidneys and er and by placing them in a healthy condition drives disease and pain from the system. For all kidney, liver and urinary touvies; for the distressing disorders of women; for malaria, and physical troubles generally, this great remedy has no equal.
