Dispatches declare that they have utilized the services of their search for the murderer of the Whitechapel road.

The only case in which a hand has ever been traced to the Whitechapel road.

bloodhound occurred a few days ago, when a man named John, who was a native of Lancashire, and after several days' search, he was traced to a large shop, where he was found with a large quantity of bloodstained paper, which was found to be the same as that which was found in the case of the Whitechapel murder.

The history of the reign now paralyzes all London.
