

GOOD STORIES OF TO-DAY

HOW THE PAPER WAS SAVED BY A PROOF READER.

Various Mixture of a Wedding Report and a Kacy Live Stock Criticism—A Father Who Strikingly Resembled a 1,875 Pound Ox.

In a certain Western newspaper office the gentleman whose business it is to record the fluctuations of the live stock market sits across from the young man to whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers, and enjoy the latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalism. Both use the same kind of paper, and their penmanship is not unlike that of a proof reader, later in the evening, saved from reaching the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recessed rose-rates tropical plants, and from the ceiling hung 15 Western veils, which at this time of year are not unlike correspondingly dense as to $4 cents per lb. There was also an active demand for choice hams, and farmers east of the Mississippi River can probably turn sheep raising and take the bride, who wore a gown of white, corded silk, a creation of Worth's, with pearl ornaments.

Then came the maid of honor, the cousin of the bride, Miss Henrietta Flower, of Chicago, wearing a dress of white tulle with diamond ornaments, and she was followed by a small bunch of Montana sheep, which bleated most piteously as they were driven on board and shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda. They will here be cut and slightly decorated, and after the rest of the party had reached the rail the minister turned and said impressively, "I cannot bid more than 64 cents for State veils, but colleagues from London quote refrigerated beef at a price that will enable me to pay 4.90 dollars for a car of choice Indian hams," and leaving this there was a rush for the young married couple and the bride fell into the arms of her father, who knows to bear a striking resemblance to a Connecticut ox weighing 1,875 pounds. The market here took an upward turn, and the guests, who numbered about 200, were served with a sumptuous dinner at the house of the bride. —New York Times.

Every Dog Has Its Day.

Mr. S. Picken Spang—Ah! is the Dalmanian the fashionable dog this season, Miss Phayre?

Miss Phayre T. Phayre—Oh, no! I only wear the coach dog with this gown.—Puck.

A Leap-Year Romance. "I am only a clerk on a small salary," she said, "but I can offer you a comfortable home if you can dispense with luxuries, Harold."

"I am no ice cream stand," he answered coldly. "And can you forego soda water?" "I never touch it."

"Nor candy?" "Mamma would never let me acquire the candy habit," he said humbly. "Sweet boy, but you love the theater—the matinee."

"You forget, I was raised in Boston." "Oh, then, concerts are your only weak-ness. Darling, there is a symphony to-night, and I am sure you would like to go."

"Yes, if it does not keep in too late. Will you call for me, my Edith?" "At a quarter to eight, precisely. You will be all ready, dear?"

"Yess, I never keep anyone waiting." Punctual to the hour Edith Marshall made her appearance and found her young lover ready for the evening. All except his gloves. These he held in his hand.

"I can put them on in the carriage," he explained, "as we go along." "Carriage?" asked Edith. "Did you expect for one moment, Harold Smithlet, that I was to bring a carriage?"

"And did you expect for one moment, Edith Marshall, that I was to walk?" "It was the bitter end of their romance, and each went on their—his—her—way, a truer and a sadder man—woman."

Got the Wrong Girl. He—I'm looking for a girl who can bake a cake, a loaf of bread or cook a meal; one who isn't afraid to sew a button on, or soil her hands in a little housework. She—I should strongly advise you to try an intelligence office, Mr. Closeleigh—Life.

What Was Worse. Junior partner (when the expert had finished his examination of Mr. Lejra's books)—Is he short in his accounts? Expert—No, sir; it's his cash which is short.

The Colonel Didn't Shoot. Colonel Hestertiger of the Cavalry Life Insurance Company—You rascal! I shall shoot you on sight if you don't apologize for what you have said about me! Major Sivboots—Shoot away! I'm insured in your company—Boston News.

Your Charge Now. "Is this man charged with profanity?" asked the judge. "If I do think he is, yer honor," replied the policeman. "He may have been, but I think most of it must have escaped by this time."—Washington Star.

NERVOUS DISEASES CAN BE CURED

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of nervous diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is practicing a dangerous form of charlatanism. Properly treated, these diseases

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most essentially do so. It is the only known force or power that will apply what is lacking, namely, nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will positively cure Nervous Prostration, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Kidney Disease, Lumbago and Lame Back, Dyspepsia, etc., when all other means fail. Beware of imitations and cheap belts.
