WATFORD, FEBRUARY 10, 1911.

McCurdy's Flight.

Mr. J. A. D. McCurdy's own story of his own flight from Key West to Havana is a singularly creditable, as well as unusually interesting, docu-ment. It is a story which is told modestly as well as skillfully; singularly free from bombast and glorification of self. Few young men of twenty-five would have written of such an achievement with the res-traint and good taste which are manifested in this recital.

An entirely new set of sensations, even for an aviator of Mr. McCurdy's experience, seems to be furnished by an over-ocean flight such as the Canadian airman successfully attempted. The wonders of a mirage as seen from a hight of twelve hundred feet, the tremendous expanse of sea made visible by flight at such an altitude, the smallness of the big things of earth and water as viewed from the speeding aeroplane—these must have left upon the mind of the aviator an impression which will never be forgotten. It is little wonder that, after so fine a flight, Mr. McCurdy met with a reception such as is seldom accorded even to successful navigators of the air. But it does not seem to have turned his head in the least. The young Canadian comes through his experience with his mental equilibrium unimpared.

O. A. C. Renews Its Offer of Assistance in Drainage.

In July 1909 the Department of Physics at the O. A. C. prepared a plan of drains for a 52 acre block of land that had never grown a crop— sight dark due to the order and the looked over $10,000 inspecting the roadway. It is capable of a speed of 45 miles an hour and is operated by gasoline. it was too wet. The drains were laid that autumn. In 1910 that 22 acres yielded potatoes and corn to the value of $2250. The farm lies within five miles of the city of London. Why had this land lain use-less for generations? Perhaps the previous owners thought it could not be drained—as a matter of fact it was a difficult problem, for this land was very flat and the outlook poor. Perhaps they did not believe drainage would pay—this one crop should convince them. Or perhaps they believed in arainage but did not know just how to undertake such extensive drainage operations.

The Ontario Agricultural College is endeavoring to help those in doubt about drainages. Any farmer in On-tario wishing assistance in his drainage problems may have the same by making application to the Department of Physics, O. A. C. Guelph. As soon as possible after receipt of the application a drainage adviser is after which he makes a complete map completed the map is sent to the owner, so that he has an accurate guide to follow in putting in his only outlay to the farmer is the necessary travelling expences of one man in connection with the survey. The railways give a rate of a cent a mile for this work, so that the travelling expenses are light.

After one survey in each locality a Drainage Demonstration is held right in the field surveyed, to which all the neighbors are invited. At this meeting simple methods are demonstrated of making a drainage survey, finding the fall of a ditch, determining the grade, digging to grade, etc.

Those wishing to make application for a survey should write the Department of Physics, O. A. C., Guelph, whereupon regular applications forms will be sent.

Easy Money.

"Yes," remarked the country mer-ant, "I certainly have a snap. Wholesale houses send duns every month and draw on me at sight, but if I send a bill to a farmer, he becomes ripping mad and quits trading at my store. While I am hard up for money, many of those who are owing me are sending money in advance to mail order houses. If I contribute money for and cause, people say I am bidding for trade. If I don't they say I am a hog. Every day I am expected to dig up for everything that comes along, from a raffle ticket to a church fund, by people who claim I ought to do this because they do part of their trading here, but our friends, Robert Simpson and T. Eaton, neither buy tickets or help the church fund, and yet they get the cash in advance busi-If I sell a pair of trousers, I must treat the family to candy and cigars; if I buy a load of potatoes I must do the same. Customers who are able to pay, hold on to their money, while I pay 10 per cent. at the bank to get ready cash. I have a big business during hard times and poor crops, from people who are willing to trade with me, provided I can duplicate catalogue prices and wait until harvest for my money. My scales weigh too much when I sell sugar and too little when I buy butter. I am a thief, a liar and a grafter. If I smile I am a soft soapy hypocrite, and if I don't I am a grump. Yes, certainly this is a snap." And he looked over $10,000 ight draft due to-morrow.—Ex.

The Perishabilty of Riches.

One of the facilities which the provisions of the Canadian Government Annuities Act affords, is that given to old people of investing their capital with absolute security and safety, and with a much greater return than any other form of investment will give them. A woman of 80 years of age, who is living in one of the small villages of Ontario, and has outlived all her near relatives, the application a drainage adviser is has a deposit in the savings bank of sent to make a survey of the land, $1,500, which is all that remains of a very considerable fortune left her showing the location of the drains, by her husband, who predeceased the grade, size of tile, etc. When her nearly fifty years ago. This amount is earning her an income of $45 a year, which, needless to say, drains. As in previous years, the the necessaries of life, and the poor is not sufficient to provide her with house would have been her only destiny, as in a little less than six years she would have spent the remainder of her capital, as her living expenses are over $300 a year. One day the little booklet "Comfort and happiness" found its way into this lady's hands. She perused it carefully and considered its statements thoughtfully, and with the result that she is advised to transfer her $1,500 to the Government. She will then receive an income of $288 every year instead of $45, and the probability is that her life may be very much extended. Certainly her happiness and comfort while she lives will be increased, as the difference of $243 a year in income will mean to her all the difference between poverty and affluenco. She may live to be 100—her paternal grandfather did. Particulars concerning this provident system of investment may be had from your Postmaster, or from the Superintendent of Annuities, to whom letters may be addressed, postage free.

Many are the sneers which are being directed at the Archbishop of Canterbury, because his wife has been selected to christen the newest Dreadnought. Yet the Church at large, which, if it spoke with united voice, could bring about the disarmament of nations, cannot afford to rail at one of its individual members, who lends a quasi approval to the slaughter of war by christening a battleship which is intended, theoretically, at any rate, to be an agent of peace.
