The recent discovery by means of drilling of a large and valuable deposit of pigment clay within the limits of Arkona village opens a field of possibilities not possible to estimate. The deposit, believed to approximate 10,000 or more tons, is considered but the initial discovery to be made in the district. The clay is of that particularly valuable inorganic clay of the group of hydrates and hydroxides which includes yellow ochre, raw umber, raw sienna and cappa brown.

Many a good public-spirited citizen who in private life has held the good will and respect of his neighbors, finds after a year or so of unpaid service at the municipal council board, that he is jeered and run down right and left by people who try to pick holes in his actions at council. These people never take the trouble to commend the councillor for his good work, but are quick to strike a jarring note when some small matter doesn't suit their personal views. This is most unfair and unjust. Sometimes good men are discouraged by this sort of thing and drop out and the community is the loser. Every citizen who wants to see his community prosper should be a "booster" rather than a "knocker" in municipal and community affairs. Town councillors as a rule try to do their best, and deserve the public's commendation for their efforts.

EAST LAMBTON ENTRANCE RESULTS

The following are the results of the Junior High School Entrance Examination for the centres in the Watford High School District. The names are arranged in order of merit.

The medal donated by the joint Entrance Boards of the East Lambton Inspectorate to the pupil making the highest total for urban centres was awarded to Walter Prior of the Petrolia Public School who obtained a total of 667. Cecil Hollingsworth of Watford ranked second for urban centres and third in the Inspectorate with a total of 647. He deserves special commendation as he was a junior pupil with only one year in the Fourth Book.

Annie Watson of No. 10 Warwick, a pupil of Mr. E. Forbes, with a total of 663 won a similar medal donated to the pupil having the highest total in ungraded schools. She ranked second in the whole Inspectorate.

The local public school under the capable guidance of Mr. Doolittle sent up eighteen pupils—seventeen of whom were successful—four obtaining honors and the others well over the required 450. This is particularly worthy of note in view of the fact that most of the students were Juniors.

Of the candidates writing at Watford, forty-eight have signified their desire of continuing their education at the Watford High School, which will mean a First Form of record size.
