we also obtained, says the Herald, other Ehrang Dournal payment to ELIZABETH FLAHERTY, facts which convince us, so far as it is possible under the circumstances of the case, that Caplain Boseman saw the hull of the steam-ship President. With what the Captain and May 14, Brig Isabella, Payson, Wildhington, his mate said on Sunday, and the information we gleamed from one of the sailors of the bark yesterday, we can form no other opinion at present, The sailors said they saw floating present. The salors said they saw houng spars, champaigne baskets, bottles, and such like. They say, however, that they saw no wessel nor hull. And it appears that Captain Bowman was the only person on board who had a distinct view of the hull and her two Sydney, Ballast.
