“German Syrup”

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Bufaula, Ala.: “My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Boschee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation.” Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Boschee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

J. F. Arnold, Montevideo, Minn., writes: I always use German Syrup for a Cold on the Lungs. I have never found an equal to it—far less a superior.

OBITUARY.

SAMUEL MARSHALL.

The will of the late Samuel Marshall, for twenty-five years an elder in West Church of this city, has been probated, and amongst other legacies he has left $150 to the Building Fund of West Church, and $25 to the library fund of the Sabbath school; also $150 to the Home Mission Fund of the Presbyterian Church, and $25 to Knox College. Mr. Marshall was one of the founders of West Church, beginning with it when the members met in temperance Hall, Brock Street, then into the little church which they built at the corner of Queen and Denison Avenue, and then again into the handsome stone building which the large and prosperous congregation now occupies on the rear of the same lot fronting on Denison Avenue. He was a trustee and an elder from the beginning, and his shrewd foresightedness was the means of the congregation twenty-seven years ago purchasing the valuable lot on which the church is built. He was a life-long total abstainer, and did much good in connection with temperance work. He was a consistent servant of the Master, and in his large liberality to the poor the right hand was ignorant of what the left hand did. Mr. Marshall was born at Newton Stewart, Scotland, in 1808, enlisted in the 93rd Highlanders at Glasgow in 1827, and was discharged at Toronto, in 1847, while holding four distinguished marks, and with a certificate stating that his character had always been very good.

His Presbyterianism was of the old school, but he almost always yielded to the wish of the majority of his brethren in the Session. Then when hymns were introduced and again when the introduction of the organ was being considered he voluntarily yielded his own opinion for what the majority considered was for the best interests of the congregation. On the other hand he was so much respected by his brethren that no change was made in several matters on which he held conscientious views. In politics he was a Liberal, and his character to the end, in 1892, continued the same as it was when he left the army in 1847—very good.

HON. JOHN ROBSON.

The Presbyterian Church in British Columbia has sustained a serious loss by the death of Hon. John Robson, Premier of the Province. Mr. Robson sailed for England in June for the purpose of completing arrangements with the Imperial Government for the immigration of a number of Crofters, and while in London met with a slight accident to his hand, from which blood poisoning ensued, causing his death within a few hours. He was not very well before leaving Victoria, having overworked himself during the last session, but his friends looked forward to much benefit from the trip, and hoped that on his return the Dominion Government would recognize his services by appointing him to the well-earned dignity of Government House. Little was it thought that he would never return alive. He died in London on the 29th of June. Mrs. Robson was with him in his last moments.

Mr. Robson was born in Perth, Ont., and came to British Columbia in 1859, settling in New Westminster. Like the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie he laboured with his hands, but he soon became editor and proprietor of the British Columbian. In 1866 he was elected mayor of the city. In the same year he was called to the Legislative Council, where he remained till confederation, when the council ceased to exist. In the first election after Confederation he was elected M. P. P. for Nanaimo. In 1875 he was appointed by the Mackenzie Government paymaster on the Canadian Pacific Railway, which he held till the office was abolished in 1879. In 1882 he re-entered the Local Legislature as member for New Westminster, and the same year became Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines in the Smithe Government, which position he retained under Premier Davie after Mr. Smith's death. When Mr. Davie died in 1889 Mr. Robson became Premier, which he retained until his death. He is the third successive Premier who has died in office in British Columbia, all during Lieut. Governor Nelson's term of office. The news of his death caused profound regret, and in his removal British Columbia has lost her ablest public man.

Mr. Robson was an elder in St. Andrews Church, Victoria, and a liberal supporter of the schemes of the Church. He was also president of the Y. M. C. A. He leaves one daughter, the wife of Joseph Hunter, C.E., M.P.P. Mrs. Robson will bring his remains to Victoria, where they will be accorded a public funeral.

Nobody cares how much oil a lamp burns—oil is cheap. But, if the “Pittsburgh” burns less oil and gives more light than any other central-draft lamp, we all care; and we care a good deal; for it shows that the other lamps evaporate oil without burning it, while the “Pittsburgh” burns it.

Besides, the “Pittsburgh” is easy to manage; the others are not. The “Pittsburgh” is clean by habit; the others are foul by habit—they have dirt-pockets, every one of them. Send for a primer.
