1. DICESTIVE POWER
"In other words, Papoid possesses the combined powers of the Salivary, Gastric, and Pancreatieferments."

(KILMER.—Paperread before New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association.)

2. ACTS THROUGHOUT ENTIRE AILMENTARY CANAL
"An additional advantage of Papoid (in diphtheria) is that it helps Nature to digest what ever food there may be in the alimentary canal."
LOVE, Prof. Clinical Medicine and Diseases of Children, Marion Sims College Medicine, St. Louis.

3. STITULATES NATURAL DICESTION
"Pepsin often relieves a present difficulty: but Papoid, in addition, places the stomach in condition to digest the next meal. It is far better to make the stomach do its own work. Pepsin makes the stomach lazy; Papoid does not."

LARRABEE.—Prof. Hospital College of Medicine, Louisville, Ky.)

4. ACTS IN ACID, ALKALINE OR NEUTRAL MEDIA

"But much more convenient than this will be found the dusting of a minute portion of Papoid beneath the protective strips. This succeeds well, because Papoid acts best in a concentrated medium of any reaction whatever, Pepsin only in a dilute acid solution."

(Мовтон, on Leg Ulcers, read before Philadelphia County Medical Society.)

5. ACTS ON ALL KINDS OF FOOD. CAN BE COMBINED WITH ANTISEPTICS

"The physiological actions of Papoid as a digestive agent have been thoroughly established. It acts upon albuminoids, hydrating them and converting them into peptones. Converts starch with great promptness, the ultimate product being mallose. Its emulsifies Fats. An important point is, it can be given in conjunction with true antiseptics, even corrosive sublimate in dilute solutions does not interfere with its digestive powers."

(WOODBURN, Prof. Clinical Medicine, Medico Chirurgical College, Philadelphia, Pa.)
