

conduct of search and rescue operations in all situations, and special technology and equipment have been allocated.

Pravda

16 Oct 88

P. 3 (full text)

Course for Indigirka

A new air route has connected the remote settlement of Kebergene to the regional centre of Belaya Gora. The residents of these places now have a round-the-year link with greater lands.

The entire population came out to meet the An-2 airplane, piloted by captain I. Zavershinskii and second pilot V. Koryakin, that was the first to touch down on the new landing strip. An improvised meeting was held on the spot.

A. Noskov's brigade, of the Irkutsk SMU-11 GA, delivered the facility a year ahead of schedule, and undertook to build a road linking the airport to the settlement by the end of the year. The route will be flown by experienced pilots of the Chokurdakhszkaya joint air squadron.

Vozdushnyi Transport

4 October 88

P. 1 (full text)