

ACCOMPANYING this booklet is an exact reproduction in miniature of the lead tablet deposited on March 30, 1743, in a bluff overlooking the Missouri River by the Chevalier de la Verendrye, as the evidence of his having taken possession of the whole northwestern part of what is now the United States, together with a large part of what is now Western Canada, as far as the Rocky Mountains, by right of discovery for the King of France. This reproduction of what

Page Three

