Portrait of Chief Justice Moss,
A portrait of Chief Justice Moss, to be hung on the wails of Osgoode Hall, has just been executed for the benchers of the Law Society by J. W. L. Forster, A.R.C.A. The picture is life size, and is regarded as a perfect likeness. The subject is seated in his official robes, in an easy attitude, with a book in his hand, the side face being turned towards the spectator. The artist has caught a very natural expression of the Chief Justice, whose friends are greatly pleased with the work. The portrait, which is the first one of the kind that has been painted for the benchers by this artist, is in every way worthy of his high reputation, and will be a fine addition to the gallery at the hall. The late Mr. Bertton was, in his lifetime, the artist who was always commossioned to do the Chief Justice Since his death Mr. Wyly Grier has painted Chief. Justice Meredith and Chief Justice Falconbridge, and Mr. Patterson has done the late Chief Justice Burton. Mr. Forster has painted most of the excellent portraits at the Legislative buildings—the late Messrs. Pardee, Hardy and Fraser: Sir William Meredith, William Lyon Mackenzie and others.
