Laberals, who, in their blindness, seized upon the Borden coalition as a real, honest winkness, and their street are official still pulling strong for limin. Their names are usually found among the members are usually found and that patronage was abolished. But that is not all. The farce goes further.

They are of the Lloyd Harris type. He againeered the Hamilton win-the-war is not all the face goes in the profiters. The grits in the whole list are few. It is announced that he had been appointed to represent the imperial munitions board at Washington. The imperial munitions board as life Joseph Flavelle, and Sir Joseph Flavelle is the Government.

The real Liberal, however, who accepted coalition because he considered it in the best interests of the government of the past six years—is beginning now to find out that he is the only one who is making such appointment of enumerators would be left in the profit of the profiters. SHIPS FOR ITALY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Five ships with a tonnage of about 25,000 thus far have been placed by the American Government at the disposal of Italy for the transport of supplies. Before month is over another 75,000 tons, it was said today, will have been turned over.

Borden has no such intention and by now the people of the Dominion should know the same. If they do not, they have not analyzed the list of returning officers which the Union Government has named to handle the coming election. It was announced two weeks act thing of the past. What do we find on checking over the list of appointments?

Your correspondent is not acquainted with every man named in the list. Perhaps, however, the Toronto district list will serve as an example from which to strike an average.

Here is how they line-up:
Parkdate—Thomas Hurst, vice-president Conservative Association, a party worker for 25 years past.
Toronto North—J. F. Louden, well-known Conservative and former controller, elected on a Conservative ticket.
Toronto South—T. W. Close, for years a prominent Conservative. He does not even live in the riding he is to have sharge of.
Toronto West—T. H. Barton, a strong farty man, who acted as returning officer in the northwest by-election when Hon. W. D. McPherson was taken into he Hearst cashinet.

posed it. It was a cut-and-dried packed meeting. It was colled as a unionist meeting. It was to name the candidates chosen by the combined gathering of Liberals and Conservatives. The Liberals of the city were boiding a packed meeting in the other end of the city at the same time; so it may be judged that their representation at the unionist meeting was of the usual order.

The Mail and Empire says: "It was a matter of common inconveloge beforehand that those who called the convention—and there is some mystery as to their identity, for all invitations were sent out unsigned—had intended to nominate Mr. Stewart (Conservative) for West Hamilton." Later it says that "when a soldler submitted the name of Col. MacLaren (Liberal), the meeting was for a moment taken back." As has been said, this was a typical "union" meeting, Gen. Mewburn will was for a moment taken back." As has been said, this was a typical "union" meeting, Gen. Mewburn will opposition, however. Rev. W. Gilitry will opposition, however. Rev. W. Gilitry will opposition to the property of the Greater Toronto Labor party, after pointing out that Hamilton is a strong Labor centre, unhesitatingly predicts the general's defeat.

But as to Mr. Rowell, not even a hole-in-the-corner meeting has been called for him. He is like a ship without a rudder. He is rambing everywhere and getting nowhere. The hunt for a seat for him borders on the ridiculous. His name has been monitoned for all kinds of seats, but it is anybody but those directly connected with the seats that are doing the mentioning. To date there has not been a solitary bonadde offer of a seat for Mr. Rowell take his seat. But this cannot be a so-called unionist convention. A good authority from Ottawa says fourteen constituencies have made politaint; it would be on a par with the appoint of the great of the containt of the "abolish patronage solvernment."

In the meantime certain rumblings are heard. Hon. Frank Cochrane, who is in charge of the Ontarlo campaign for the Government, is having his tro

DANGEROUSLY ILL.

SEAFORTH, Nov. 5.—Casualty advices came to two families in Seaforth today, one to Mrs. Stephenson, that her husband, Pte. He went overseas with the 161st Huron Battalion and was included in the first draft to France last spring. His wife and family reside here.

The other was to Robert Porterfield, had been seriously wounded in the leg and thigh. He also enlisted in the 161st, and after a short training in England was drafted into the 58th Battalion and went to France in the spring.

PIONEER'S DEATH.

The death of Mrs. William Belton, one of the pioneers of this section, occurred at her late residence, 824 Dundas street, in her 82nd year. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Thompson, and William and Miss Helen, her grandchildren, and one sister. Mrs. Flora Dickinson of Fairbury, Nebraska. Mrs. Bekton's husband, the late William Belton, who died 34 years ago, was well and favorably known, especially in London township, where he resided allshis life, on the old homstead, on land taken up by his father, the late George Belton, in 1812, hence the name Belton P. O.

Mrs. Betton was the daughter of the late Josiah Putnam of Putnamville, well known in Westminster and Dorchester, who, like his friends, the Beltons, came to Upper Canada from the States about the same time, and was a direct descendant of Gen. Israel Putnam, so often mentioned in history in the part he took in the conquest of Canada from the French, and more especially as one of Washington's generals in the War of Independence. These old families are fast passing away, but they ever command the respect and admiration for their energy, shrewdness and intelligence, and to their self-sacrifice is largely owing the present conditions now enjoyed.

OPEN ON THURSDAY TO HEAR ALL ORAL EXEMPTION CLAIMS

Government Issues Statement Explaining Procedure To Be Followed.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Exemption tribunals will begin their sittings on Thursday. On that day and on the following Friday and Saturday (November 9 and November 10) they will hear oral claims for exemption from military service. During these first three days, tribunals are required to sit at least until 5 o'clock in the afternoon to hear applicants who appear in person.

required to sit at least until 5 o'clock in the afternoon to hear applicants who appear in person.

The Oral Claims.

The purpose of setting the three days apart and the procedure to be adopted in the case of oral applications are interested in the instruction of tribunals. "Under the terms of the proclamation," the memorandum reads, "the last day upon which a report for service or claim for exemption can be made is Saturday, November 10. In order to meet the possible distinction afford such men an opportunity of appearing in person before a tribunal to prefer the claim, tribunals are required by the proclamation to open their sittings on Thursday, November 8. On that day and on the two following days of the week, they will receive oral claims for exemption from men to whom the proclamation applies on their behalf from their employers, business associates, or near relatives, and few, if any cases will be referred to them by registers for disposition on each of these days.

Tribunals Warned.

trars for disposition on each of these days.

Tribunals Warned.

"As the act forbids more than one application for exemption by or at the instance of any man, tribunals will satisfy themselves that applicants who appear on these days in person to make application have not aiready done so, either through the postoffice or before another tribunal.

"Where in the case of applications made in person, the tribunal has satisfied itself that the applicant has made no previous application, it will first obtain from the applicant the information called for on the form of claim for exemption. The applicant may be asked to sign the form, but it squite unimportant whether it is signed or not. It should, however, be dated and initiated by both members of the tribunal."

The memorandum adds that if the number of personal applications is few the claims can be dealt with immediate in the claims and obtaining the necessary particulars. Actual adisposition of the claims would be postroned until cases assigned by the register have been disposed of.

Emphasis is laid here on the fact that the tribunals are judicial bodies, and that any attempt to use undue influence imposes liability to a heavy penalty.

ATHENS. Nov. 5.—Lengthy telegrams which passed between former Queen Sophle and Emperor William during December, 1916, and the early part of this year, similar in tone to others that have been deciphered, are now made public, and show that the then queen again and again urged that the Germans take the offensive on the Macedonian, front. Queen Sophle as sured the kaiser, her brother, of Greek co-operation.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Foreign Secretary Zimmermann it appears could not agree, however, on the time the attack should be mader whille the blockade of the Allies, causing a shortage of food and munitions in Greece prevented Greek action. On January 10 the queen telegraphed the German emperor telling him of too be a series of word pictures, which in Greece prevented Greek action. Potreoes sold at $1.75 to $2 per bag. Purchasers were plentiful and the larger proportion of spuds were sold before 10 o'clock.

Dressed hogs were not offered, but similar prices, as those quoted Monday are expected as soon as dressed hogs again appear on the square.

Hay was abundant and the demand slow, but no decrease in price as a result of this condition was shown. One vendor asked as high as $13.50 for his bedder, but was required to lower the price before the close of the market.

Oats are coming in at a brigged rate. The demand for this grain is good whenever offered and sells from $2.05 to $2.10, according to quality.

Live ducks bring 14c to 16c per pound. The demand for poultry has not yet become brisk. Cifickens bring from 15c to 18c a pound wholesale. Turkeys are scarce, it being rather early for a good sale of these birds.

Butter and eggs remain firm and in the best of demand. Fruit is no longer to be obtained on the square. Grapes have almost disappeared from the fruit offerings and very shortly will be unobtainable.
