-The Great Test--Value

In this age of advertising persuasion, the only safe way is to shop where you're sure of satisfaction. The old-time way of doing business was a sort of warfare, a battle of wits between seller and buyer. If the seller outwitted the buyer he patted himself on the back, while the buyer gnashed his teeth and waited for the "next time." This store changed all that by agreeing to take back any purchase and refund the money. That showed our confidence in our goods and values, and won your confidence—and your business.

And the July Sale is a month of even BETTER VALUES; a month of booming business when things would otherwise be quiet and lazy, a month without profit perhaps, but full of the enthusiasm of doing larger business. Without blow or bluff, we day after day offer money-saving inducements that you can't match elsewhere.
