

Jule and Jay J. Allen Present

The Canadian Army in Action and the Advance of the Tanks

The Official Moving Picture of the Battle of Courcellette

UNDER the auspices of The Toronto World the official moving pictures of "The Canadians in Action and the Advance of the Tanks" will be presented by Jule and Jay J. Allen today and all this week at the Regent Theatre daily and continuously from 10 a.m. until 11 p.m. These pictures are official, having been produced under government and military auspices; they are authentic, having been endorsed by His Majesty the King, and they are historic, being a record of first importance of Canada's national life, produced for the Canadian War Records Office, under Sir Max Aitken (Lord Beaverbrook).

Patching up the "Pipped"

The Battle of Courcellette, September 15-16, 1916, was the greatest single military operation in which Canadians have ever co-operated. This film is a magnificent pictorial supplement to the facts. It will link future generations with these uneventful times as truly as it bridges 3000 miles for those of us who have sons on the battlefields of France today.

This is the first film ever shown in Canada depicting the British tanks in action. The tanks were introduced into the war the day these pictures were taken. They are shown close up in conjunction with the advance of the Canadian troops, monstrous, mysterious, unique.

The Canadians and the Tanks—Everybody should see them. It is a debt to yourself, your soldiers, and the proper understanding of new-made Canadian history.

BRITAIN IS ABLE TO MEET PERIL

menace was serious, said it would not be a fatal menace, and he was confident that in six weeks or so the nation would have the submarines really in hand.

Using Every Device.

The Earl of Lytton, replying for the admiralty, said the government would be glad if it were possible to take the public entirely into its confidence, but that that would involve imparting information to the enemy, and the admiralty was determined the Germans should have that information by experience and not through questions in parliament.

All the expedients suggested by Lord Bessford were being pressed forward with the utmost energy, together with many others, he continued, even in addition to those mentioned by Earl Curzon on Feb. 7. Every device that human ingenuity could frame was being employed.

"We are the sea police of the world and Germany is playing the role of highwayman," declared Lord Lytton. "We are confident that we can continue in the future as in the past not merely to supply our armies at the front with munitions and supplies, but also to keep free certain routes for neutral commerce and obtain necessary supplies for our own people."

Counter-Measures Succeed.

Altho the new phase of the submarine war was only a fortnight old, Lord Lytton said that the counter-measures put into effect already had achieved very considerable success and justified expectations for the future. Lord Curzon added a set of figures, which he claimed, showed that the situation was less grave than might be supposed. He said:

"In July, 1914, our merchant marine consisted of 359 vessels, in excess of 1600 tons each, with a gross tonnage of 16,550,000. At the end of last January the decrease had been only between five and six per cent, in gross tonnage. Against the losses and those who have been with him are not dissatisfied with what has been done even in the last fortnight. We were not dissatisfied with the number of German submarines that would never return to their own shores."

FIRST MAN KILLED.

Brantford Ont., Feb. 13.—For some time past Brantford has fared very lightly in the casualty lists, but now that drafts from the 15th Battalion are in the firing line, reports are more frequent. Woodcock, Huron street, thirty years of age, single and formerly worked at the Massey-Harris factory.

Baker Had Long Hours And Only Broken Rest

Became Much Run Down and Could Not Sleep When Opportunity Came—Found Cure in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 12.—At this time many people are working long hours with little time for rest and sleep. Sooner or later the nerves give way, for it is during sleep that the nerve force wasted by the activities of living and working is replenished. When you cannot sleep there is no rest for the nerves, and by continual spending there must follow bankruptcy and collapse of the nervous system.

In this letter you will find cheering news about the great nerve restorative—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This treatment now has an enormous sale throughout this continent. Everywhere people are using it to restore tired, wasted nerves. In almost every paper you pick up you will find reports of cures effected.

Mr. M. J. McCarten, baker, 58 Church street, Brockville, Ont., writes: "About five years ago I was trou-

MINISTERS OBJECT.

Take Exception to Action of Council in Removing Limit of Pool Rooms.

Special to The Toronto World. Brantford, Ont., Feb. 13.—The Brantford Ministerial Association has come out protesting against the action of the city council recently in raising the limit of the number of pool rooms to the sky, the old limit having been six. The clergy suggest that the council take steps to close up pool rooms rather than open more, as they form hiding places for eligible young men who should enlist. They further suggest that citizens should gather to take action to have the council rescind the cancellation of the limit clause of the license bylaw.

Canadians in England

London, Feb. 2.—C. F. Campbell, of Vancouver, writes to The Times.

"As a Canadian barrister, I wish to do my utmost to emphasize and advance a vigorous crusade to secure at once an earnest, intelligent and strong public campaign thru the press of neutral countries, particularly the United States of America. There can be no doubt that not doing so is a tremendous mistake, and Britain is already suffering seriously and may soon gather to take action to have the council rescind the cancellation of the limit clause of the license bylaw."

"Let us offset the active German propaganda, and let us have a decent active publicity campaign, so that public men can no longer say, 'The allies themselves don't know what they are fighting for.'"
