HIGHWAYS OF THE FUTURE.

(Toronto Globe.)

Motor vehicles are revolutionizing highway traffic, and the outlook seems to favor a network of trunk lines and feeders used by car owners. This was the original steam-railway outlook, but the lines were privately owned. The owners found it easy to make the independently-owned locomotives and cars unprofitable. This purpose was effected by control of terminals. Under the new development the highways will be public property and the rolling stock privately owned.

The demands for routing here and there from owners of areas and the scramble for jobs of various kinds would exhaust government capacity. The Toronto-Hamilton Commission, rushing into the work before estimating the cost, shows that hopes of making the fountain of authority rise above its source are seldom fulfilled. Like all developments, that of the new highway must wait on the selection of capable men.

PASTOR OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TENDERS RESIGNATION

At the evening service in the Congregational church last evening, the resignation of the pastor, Rev. R. J. Haughton, was read by Rev. J. C. Berrie, who occupied the pulpit. The letter was as follows:

His Reasons.

To the Officers, Members and Adherents of the Congregational Church, St. John (N. B.).
Dear Friends,—Nearly three years have elapsed since I accepted your invitation to assume the pastorate of this church. It has been a period of varied experiences, and as most of you are aware, our work has had to be done under exceptionally trying and difficult conditions. It is not, by any means, a new phase of the denominational situation. In fact, for several years the difficulties of maintaining a church of the Congregational order in St. John have constantly increased, and by reason of the war new conditions and problems have been created.

It is a matter of ordinary knowledge, that for a number of years the task has been a difficult one for minister after minister. The unusual conditions have made unusual demands upon time and strength. There are limits to human power and endurance—as well as the ability to make sacrifices. For this reason, the time has come when I must resign the pastoral office, and herewith tender you my resignation to take effect on the 30th inst.

In doing so, I desire to express my thanks to the faithful and loyal workers who have helped me, and whose unflinching sympathy and support have been a constant inspiration. Such souls in every church—who recognize that there is a re-

Prevent Spread of Disease

To housewives and mothers Dr. Charles Robb, director of the United States Health Department's Bureau of Public Health Education, recently issued the following advice in his campaign of education designed to lessen the spread of infantile paralysis:

It is not unlikely that infantile paralysis is spread in a number of different ways, possibly by flies, roaches, bed bugs, lice and other vermin.

Washfulness and netting will rid your home of flies.

Effort and kerosene will rid your home of bedbugs.

Cleanliness and borax will rid your kitchen of roaches.

Therefore, wash the hands immediately before eating, before handling, preparing or serving food, after attending the sick, after handling anything dirty.

Rev. Dr. Lea Logner, aged eighty, has been the rector of St. Matthew's church in Bedford, N. Y., for fifty years. He went there immediately after he was ordained in 1860.

THE FLAMING TORCH IN WESTMORLAND

(Moncton Transcript.)

Capt. A. E. Barton, recruiting officer for District No. 3, has today received definite orders to take charge of the arrangements for opening the recruiting campaign of the 26th Battalion in Westmorland County.

There will be fifteen big meetings, one in the shiretown of each county in the province. Lieut. Humphrey is now at Dorchester completing the arrangements for the bonfire for the opening night. A meeting will be held at Dorchester on the opening night, date to be announced later, at which there will be civilian speakers from the county, and military speakers will be provided by the Battalion Headquarters, Fredericton.

A young lady will recite "Fire, Fire the pile on Craig-gowan height," and a tour of the country will be made by motor cyclists bearing flaming torches. To this end motor cyclists should communicate with Capt. Barton, as soon as possible. Supplementing the opening meeting there will be fifteen meetings held throughout the country on the fifteen nights following the opening meeting. At one of those meetings which will probably be held at Moncton, the O. C. the Battalion Lt.-Col. F. A. Guthrie, will be present, accompanied by the major commanding the company to be raised in this county.

The citizens of Moncton and Westmorland County generally are requested to co-operate in making this campaign a huge success.

Speakers will be needed, also cars to convey the speakers to the different places of meeting.

THINKS BRUCE JOHNSTON'S DEATH HAS BEEN AVENGED

(Victoria County News).
Private J. J. Bowman, a Castigan boy, writes home from the firing line to his friend, Nicholas Dee, of Cliffordvale, and gives a vivid word picture of some of the scenes enacted in the war zone. Private Bowman went over with the 26th Battalion and was later drafted to the 26th Battalion, in which corps he nearly lost his life, being buried for twenty-four hours and nearly suffocated by the explosion of one of the great shells. He does not refer to the matter in his letter, but other members of the 26th who have written home have given the particulars of his thrilling experience. Private Bowman's letter to Mr. Dee is in part as follows:—"I was in the hospital for two months and am now back in the field again attached to the 2nd Entrenching Battalion. I was transferred from the 26th Battalion, and am now a Red Cross man. I took part in the third battle of Ypres. In your former letter to me you asked me to avenge the death of Bruce Johnston. I think I have done that already. In the third battle of Ypres I saw some horrid sights. About half way through the night we got in a mix-up with the enemy and had to use the bayonets. And as I saw the cold steel driven home to the hills, I thought of poor Bruce. We are kept so busy that we do not have much time to think of home. My brother Herman was wounded on the first of June, and is still in the hospital in England. I heard Pius was in France, but have not met him yet. Sergeant Tompkins from Perth was killed right alongside of me. Jim Conway is still with the 26th. I am not going to say that I will be back, but I am still going to take chances.
