

"It's Nice Clean Jail," Says Actress Wife of Convicted "Bucketeer"

LOUISE GROODY-MCGEE.

New York, June 25.—Louise Groody, actress-wife of William F. McGee, indicted with his partner, E. M. Fuller, for "bucketing," is perfectly calm over her husband's projected incarceration in the city jail.

"Don't you feel rather odd, my dear, having a husband in jail?" somebody asked Louise, in Paris, where she is recuperating from the strain of the trial.

"Oh, no," said Louise, airily, "it's only Ludlow Street Jail. They have clean sheets there, and good food. Billy won't mind, and I'll go to see him often when I go back."

The nonchalant Miss Groody, to whom McGee is said to have given $1,600,000, blamed Fuller for her husband's present state of restricted personal freedom.

Fuller, who last week was incarcerated, ostensibly suffering from "nervous exhaustion," later recovered and offered to reveal the names of the "higher-ups" who backed him and McGee in their bucket-shop operations. His offer, made with the understanding that he would be given complete immunity, was refused by U. S. Attorney Hayward.

Vague rumors that Fuller had been threatened with physical violence if he "quealed" apparently did not frighten him, but U. S. Marshal Hecht increased Fuller's bodyguard nevertheless.

Refused immunity, Fuller declined to answer questions relative to what part he played in the bankruptcy of E. M. Fuller Company may have been taken by Thomas F. Foley or Charles A. Stoneham.

COMMUNISTS IN ROW IN PARIS

Police and the Republican Guards Prevent Demonstration, But Things are Lively.

Paris, June 25.—Several thousand communists and workers gathered in the Place de l'Opera on Saturday night for an announced demonstration against Fascism and the Royalists, but heavy forces of police and mounted Republican guards sent to the scene, together with the great number of spectators, made the programme impossible of fulfillment. The police dispersed the gathering when groups started singing the "Internationale."

A series of small disorders broke out in the vicinity of the Opera later but they were quickly stopped by massed police charges, one of which went through a crowd of drinkers on the sidewalk in front of a boulevard cafe, overturning the tables and chairs and upsetting the customers.

The police swung their clubs freely and the mounted guards used the flats of their sabres.

Many bruises and bloody noses resulted from the scrimmages, both in the ranks of the police and the demonstrators. A large number of arrests were made.

Paris, June 25.—A Royalist newspaper, L'Action Francaise, which has been the storm centre of Communist and Socialist attacks, failed to appear either yesterday or today. The men in the job shop where the newspaper is printed refused to set it up on the ground that it is a monarchist publication.

The Journal recently missed one issue because of a strike called after the "King's Camelots" had sacked the offices of two Socialist papers "in reprisal" for the assassination of Marquis Plateau, in L'Action Francaise's office by a girl anarchist. The printing crew at that time was replaced by non-unionists, but the plant has since changed hands and the new owners have again unionized it.

A drydock being built in Havre, France, will be the largest in that country, 1,020 feet long.

Prorogation Now Depends on Senate

Generally Expected to Occur This Week—Soldier Legislation a Determining Factor.

(Canadian Press.) Ottawa, June 25.—The week now opening is expected to be the last of the session of Parliament. By some prorogation is put as early as Thursday, by others as late as Saturday.

The only serious obstacle of prorogation is now said to be in the Senate. The banking bill is through the Commons and is making good headway in the Upper House. Reorganization has not been disposed of, but it is understood that it will be dropped. In the Senate, an inquiry into the returned soldier's legislation has been opened, and the length of this is stated to be the determining factor in the date of the closing of Parliament.

LESS SAVES MORE AND HAS LESS THAN BEFORE

Monroe, N. Y., June 25.—John Less is moneyless again and is racking his brain for a good place to deposit the next tidy sum he accumulates. He is thinking seriously of the well.

He used to keep his savings in the kitchen stove, but a few months ago, when he had $75 stowed away, his wife, cleaning house, started a fire unexpectedly and that was the end of the $75. Then Mr. Less stuffed his money in a milk bottle which he hid in the hay mow. He had $300 in the milk bottle when the barn burned down.

GIANTS AGAIN SAFE IN LEAD

New York, June 25.—The New York Giants today have a safe margin in first place. They are making hay while the Boston sun shines and licking their chops at the prospects of the near advent of the Philadelphia Quakers, while Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis muss up each other. The Giants won their sixth consecutive game yesterday, 6 to 3, making it three straight from the Braves. Previously they had won three straight from St. Louis.

Pittsburg also won over St. Louis, 6 to 4, but it seems as though the Pirates are getting further from the Reds rather than keeping after the champions.

Chicago's steady playing is less normal like. The Cubs got near to the Reds by giving Laque, the Havana pitcher, his second defeat of the season in eleven starts and broke his winning streak of seven games. Grover Alexander opposed him and allowed only three hits. The score was 2 to 0. Brooklyn fattened on Philadelphia, 3 to 4, making six runs in the first inning and getting only one hit. The Quakers just hand over their games without being asked.

Sherry Smith, former Brooklyn slush artist, kept "coming back" for Cleveland, beating St. Louis 8 to 2, while another veteran, George Daus of Detroit, blew up in the ninth after he had his game won, let in six runs and lost to Chicago, 9 to 8.

Speaker Again Makes Batting Order Shift

Cleveland, June 24.—(Canadian Press.)—Manager Tris Speaker, of the American Leaguers, has again resorted to the shift in his batting order that he used when he won the pennant and world's championship in 1920. The shift, which is not uncommon in baseball, had been discarded this year by Speaker. It is the changing of players to meet right or left handed pitchers.

With a southpaw working, Speaker will use Louis Guisto at first, O'Neill behind the plate and Joe Connolly, a recruit obtained from Little Rock, in right field.

When a pitcher is working the right arm, Frank Brower, acquired in a trade with Washington, will be on the initial sack. Myatt will catch and Homer Summa will play right field. When Uhle is pitching, however, O'Neill will catch regardless of whether the opposing slabman is right or left handed. Speaker considers Uhle more effective when O'Neill is catching.

With a right handed pitcher working against the Indians, Speaker will be able to send eight left handed hitters to the plate, providing Shante, Edwards or Smith is pitching for Cleveland.

Will Play With His Nose.

Henry Lewis, who claims the world's championship for billiard playing with his nose, will give an exhibition in the Ideal Billiard Parlors this evening. He is over eighty years of age and has been playing the game for many years.
