

General Business. CLOSING BUSINESS.

I am now selling off stocks at remarkably low prices in order to close business in Chatham. Best quality New Zealand Oil, 80 cts. per gal. Imp. White Lead, 1 lb. tin, 80 cts. to 10 cts. lb. Black, red and yellow paints in 25 lb. kegs, 50 cts. lb. All kinds of putty and oil.

J. R. GOGGIN.

Chatham, 17th May, 1883.—64 16

NOW IN STOCK.

MANILLA ROPE

ALL SIZES from 6 to 42 inch.

White Lead and Colored PAINTS.

Good Quality and Cheap.

COPPER PAINT.

CHAMP FOR CASH. GEO. WATT.

SEEDS, SEEDS.

FLOWER & GARDEN SEEDS

WARRANTED FRESH AND PURE

POTATO ONIONS

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE.

E. LEE-STREET, Proprietor.

GOLDEN BALL SHOE STORE

FURNITURE EMPORIUM.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Departure.

WE ARE NOW SELLING

MEN'S HAND MADE DRIVING BOOTS.

MEN'S HAND MADE KNEE BOOTS.

MEN'S HAND MADE SHOES.

at Prices unequalled hitherto.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or a Money Refund.

The Trade Supplied on Satisfaction Terms.

FOTHERINGHAM & CO.

ICE CREAM.

CONFECTIONERY, FRUITS, ETC.

Fresh Goods of Superior Quality

Always to be found at

M. J. STAPLES

Sheriff's Sale.

TO be sold at Public Auction, on THURSDAY, THE 27th DAY OF SEPTEMBER, next, in front of the Registry Office, in the town of Chatham, N. B., the following property, to-wit: The land and premises situate in the Parish of St. John, County of Miramichi, and bounded as follows: On the north by the land of Robert Jones, and on the east by the land of Robert Jones, and on the south by the land of Robert Jones, and on the west by the land of Robert Jones.

COFFINS & CASKETS

The Subscriber has on hand at his shop, a superior assortment of

COFFIN FINDINGS

AND ROBES.

Which he will supply at reasonable rates.

W. McLEAN, Undertaker.

Miramichi Advance.

CHATHAM, JUNE 21, 1883.

CORRECT.—The St. John Globe of Tuesday has a correct and timely article on the Miramichi steam subsidy business.

ALBERT ELECTION.—The writ for the election in Albert County has been issued.

BYE-ROADS.—The conclusion of the list of Northumberland County Bye-Road appropriations appears on the first page of the ADVANCE.

PERSONAL.—Thomas Hanford, Esq., Inspector of Inland Revenue, is in Miramichi on Departmental business.

A New Big in the Grab-games.

After what has transpired in reference to the continuation of the Andover subsidy, up to a fortnight ago, the Miramichi public hoped that the end of the monopoly had been reached and that, at least, one large and unnecessary drain on the Provincial treasury had been effectually and finally stopped.

Turning to the Auditor General's list of warrants issued to cover the above over-expenditure we find that they are as follows:—

Table with columns: Name, Amount. Includes: Morgan Hayes, 1200; Wm. Dickson, 1000; J. R. Goggin, 800; etc.

The public, however, will be astonished to learn that Mr. R. B. Call has renewed his attack upon the public treasury and managed to enlist a powerful interest in his behalf.

It will be remembered that Mr. Call, a few weeks since, managed to obtain an injunction to restrain the S. W. Boom Company from jamming the river with logs this season.

Let us look at this proposition:— 1st.—It means that the Government, which, according to Mr. Call's organs, had refused on public grounds to continue his subsidy, is now to have a pleasure brought to bear on it by a lumber corporation to change its policy.

2nd.—It means that a large privilege is being conferred on the Boom Company, a subsidy of so much money per day, is to seek relief by bringing a corrupt pressure to bear on the Government by which the money of the public is to be substituted for that of said corporation in discharging such alleged liability.

3rd.—It means that falling to obtain a subsidy on the merits of his claims, and for public reasons, Mr. Call attempts to make corrupt use of powerful private influences to secure it.

4th.—It means that while Mr. Call could earn $25 a day by running his boat over the short stretch of river between Millerton and Indiantown, for his claim that he loses that amount daily by the Andover being prevented from running to the latter point he has had the effrontery to ask for a Government subsidy on the ground that it did not pay to run the Andover on the Miramichi without one.

5th.—It means that, by his audacious proposal to the Boom people—his attempt to secure their influence in favor of his subsidy, coupled with his allegation of loss of earnings to the extent of $25 a day—he justifies all we have urged against public money being given to him by the thousand.

Whatever course the Boom Company or the Government may pursue in this matter, we have our duty to perform to the public and we protest, in their behalf against the Boom Company's necessities being made use of to further this grab at the people's money. We shall, no doubt, be abused by Mr. Call's paper for standing as we do, between his designs and the public interest. We shall be told that it is political spite against Mr. Call that prompts us, but we have only to say that we have no spite whatever in the matter. Although Mr. Call has done his utmost against us we wish him no harm, but neither he nor any other man shall plan and plot and make onslaughts upon the money of the province without the ADVANCE doing what it can to prevent their success. The public who they approve of our course; we shall therefore continue to pursue it.

Where did the Money go to?

In a recent number the World stated that the owner of the Andover had had his subsidy withdrawn and that this had deprived the Northwest Branch of steam service and at the same time, less money has been granted for the roads than formerly.

The grant was as large as ever, but there was an election last year and the Terrible Calamity in a Concert Hall in England.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-EIGHT CHILDREN TRAMPLED TO DEATH.

London, June 17.—A terrible calamity, involving the death of one hundred and seventy-eight children, occurred in the Town of Sunderland in the County of Durham, last evening.

London, June 17.—Several deaths have occurred since the first report and the fatal list is now placed at 186.

The Executive Committee are making arrangements to collect and distribute quantities of food having reference to the depopulation of rural districts in the Highlands and the West of Scotland.

The officers of the society are D. H. McFarlane, President, Angus Mackintosh, Treas., D. Murray, Palace Chambers, 9 Bridge St., Westminster, Hon. Secy.

Section B Again.

By far the most insignificant personage implicated in Section B Scandal is Mr. John Shields, yet it has been left to him to vindicate the innocence of the Government and of all concerned by bringing an action for libel against the Globe.

They were not informed until the hall-keeper, who strolling near the scene of the calamity, was attracted by the groans, gave the alarm.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

The Phoenix Park Murders and their Consequences.

(Dublin Freeman's Journal, National Organ.)

Not merely was the deed almost unparalleled in its daring audacity and cold-bloodedness; it was unparalleled in its effect, not only as regards the lives of innocent individuals; it changed that of a nation, and by its effects upon the relations between England and this country, may yet influence the destinies of the world.

On the morning of the 6th of May, 1882, all promised well for Mr. Foster and his system of "lettres de cachet" had been dismissed.

It was not until the afternoon of the 6th of May, 1882, that the face of the children, the father pointing to one of his children, the father pointing to one of his children, the father pointing to one of his children.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Manitoba.

Several Miramichi men, who went to Manitoba with a view of settling there, have returned home during the present month and their report of the country is not such as to encourage many to "go west."

Those who have come back took away with them sufficient means to buy land and settle in the West if they so decided, and they think they were fortunate in doing so.

Their reports show that the new towns and settlements are everywhere, and owing to the influx of both laborers and skilled men from all quarters, there is such keen competition for the work offered, that wages are very low, considering the expenses of living.

The chances for securing land at reasonable rates are, also, very poor, and the available acre is either settled upon or in the hands of speculators.

Men who go to Manitoba in the expectation of buying lands, find, on arriving there, that they must go still further west and the further they go the more hopeless their chances of settling appear.

The large number who leave their homes in the east, taking with them just enough, perhaps, to carry them to Winnipeg, Brandon or some such centre, are forced to almost beg for work at wages which a Miramichi laborer would refuse.

They have no alternative, however, as they must work or starve. The experience of the Miramichi men has also been that of others, as the following letter from a Nova Scotian named Chute, will show. It is published in a Nova Scotia paper:—

Dear Sir,—I have been in this country for eight weeks. I formerly lived in Aylesford, Kings Co., N. S., and since coming here have been very fortunate. I spent the first three weeks looking up the different parts of the country, but thought it too rough a life to lead in order to go to farming, so I concluded to go to work. I came here to Wainwright, and after looking around for a soft job for three days and not finding any, I went off my coat and got a job as a teamster for the North-West Lumbering Co. I have now been with them five weeks, and have as good a job as any man, or as good as 9 out of 10 in the city. There are hundreds of men here to-day who cannot get work to do, and are now a serious nuisance in the city, and have the means of cutting down the wages; but that the majority of them look upon after paying their wages every day, who care this country and say they could get more money to take them out of it, they would go and look for work, they could have made more money if they had stayed at home and gone to work there.

To give you an idea how hard you are on account of not getting any work to do, I went up the street two nights ago and saw an auctioneer, where I ing scenes transpired while the work of identification was in progress.

Shrews Department.

London, June 17.—Several deaths have occurred since the first report and the fatal list is now placed at 186.

The Executive Committee are making arrangements to collect and distribute quantities of food having reference to the depopulation of rural districts in the Highlands and the West of Scotland.

The officers of the society are D. H. McFarlane, President, Angus Mackintosh, Treas., D. Murray, Palace Chambers, 9 Bridge St., Westminster, Hon. Secy.

Section B Again.

By far the most insignificant personage implicated in Section B Scandal is Mr. John Shields, yet it has been left to him to vindicate the innocence of the Government and of all concerned by bringing an action for libel against the Globe.

They were not informed until the hall-keeper, who strolling near the scene of the calamity, was attracted by the groans, gave the alarm.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials who were in the hall at the time of the disaster were unaware for some considerable time of the terrible tragedy being enacted at the door.

Queen Victoria sent a telegram to-day to the Mayor of Sunderland, expressing her sympathy for the victims of the disaster.

London, June 17.—The staircase from the gallery was a winding one. Both the audience and the officials